

Subject line: Do You Want More?

Hey [Name],

Have you ever felt you wanted a bit extra?

I mean more lessons,

More leads,

More sales,

And let's be real... more MONEY.

I mean, who doesn't want more, right?

Going back to 1999,

I was living a normal life.

But deep down, I felt that I didn't live the life I wanted to.

So, I decided to do more work to achieve more in life.

First step like a tourist, I packed up and headed to California.

I wanted more, and I needed to learn from somebody who achieved more in life.

So, I start working for one of the world's leading real estate trainers.

Working there gave me lots of experience in real estate,

And taught me to master the art of selling.

Gaining experience or learning something without putting it to work doesn't change your life from where it is.

So, I felt the time was right to go back into the real estate game.

You know what I did next?

I crushed the market.

Yes, I did, and I am telling you, now it is your turn👊.

If you're willing for more,

I've packed all the lessons and years of experience into a FREE e-book to teach you all my selling strategies to sell anything to anyone.

So, complete the first mission here to jump to the MONEY level.

Aim for more,
