My View - Reading Comprehension

The Legend of the Lady Slipper

Long ago, a little girl lived in a village with her family. One winter, the people in the village got very sick but they did not have the medicine. The little girl wanted to help, so she decided to walk through the deep snow to another village to find medicine.

She wore her moccasins, but the snow was heavy and the path was hard. On the way back, she lost her moccasins in the snow. Icy crystals cut her feet and they started to bleed, but she did not stop walking because she wanted to save her people.

When spring came, beautiful pink and white flowers grew where the little girl's feet had touched. These flowers looked just like the little moccasins she had lost, so they were called "lady slippers."
