have a 19% lower nighttime crash rate than those with worse ratings.

Lastly, the legislation provides authority to the U.S. Department of Transportation to:

- evaluate and implement requirements for Drunk Driving Prevention tools in vehicles
- require standard rear-seat occupancy reminders
- implement anti-rollaway technology for vehicles with keyless-ignition systems
- regulate automatic engine shutoff devices that would prevent the occurrence of carbon monoxide poisoning from vehicles

Support for Minority Businesses:

- The legislation includes a provision based on Senator Kaine and Senator Wicker's Reaching America's Rural Minority Businesses Act, introduced in May 2021.
- The provision will enable the Minority Business Development Agency to partner with Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) and other Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs) to establish business centers to support minority-owned small businesses in rural areas to provide education, training, and technical assistance to help them grow and thrive.

> The infrastructure bill includes:
> - An increase in funding for the Transportation Alternatives Program by 60%, with subsequent annual increases. The program is the largest source of federal dollars for bike projects like protected bike lanes, trails, and multi-use paths. The funding is currently limited to $850 million annually, and the bill would increase the program to $1.38 billion in 2022 and up to $1.48 billion in 2026.
> - A requirement for all states to develop standards for Complete Streets, a policy and design approach to ensure users of all ages and abilities have safe and convenient access.
> - A vulnerable road user assessment to determine how dangerous roads are for people outside of cars.
> - Inclusion of the model three-class e-bike definitions.
> The act also provides $1 billion to redesign neighborhoods divided by highways and other infrastructure

$12,500 for electric Vehicles

Controversial incentives

The proposed EV incentive under Build Back Better includes a current $7,500 tax credit to purchase a plug-in electric vehicle as well as $500 if the vehicle's battery is made in the U.S. It also includes a controversial $4,500 tax credit if the vehicle is assembled domestically with union labor, which has drawn heavy criticism from non-Detroit automakers whose American workers aren't organized.
