Kwafo Adarkwa

Director, Public Affairs – ITC Michigan

Kwafo Adarkwa is the Director of Public Affairs for ITC Michigan. In this role, he is responsible for building equity and trust with our stakeholders who determine policy outcomes affecting ITC Michigan and leads efforts to build a public policy environment conducive to the company's business priorities.

Prior to his work at ITC, Mr. Adarkwa was a Public Utilities Engineer for the Michigan Public Service Commission. He is a multiple time graduate of Michigan State University holding both a BS in Electrical Engineering ('03) and a MBA in Integrative Management ('13).

Mr. Adarkwa is a member of the American Association of Blacks in Energy (AABE) Board of Directors. Additionally, Mr. Adarkwa is a Commissioner on the Dr. Martin Luther King Commission of Mid-Michigan. Mr. Adarkwa is also the Chairman of the Lansing Regional Chamber's Policy Committee and serves on its Executive Committee. Mr. Adarkwa is a member of the Michigan State University Black Alumni Association Board of Directors. He previously served as a President of the East Lansing Educational Foundation.

Updated: December 11, 2024