

//The sounds of a car pulling into a gravel drive. Then footsteps, then a doorbell rings through a large ornate house.

/From inside:

Don't worry Bertram I'll get it.

//Door opens

Well hello there, and who might you be?

Ah yes! David's Nephew, I remember. You found me alright I see, come. Come inside.

Bertram here will take your coat and don't worry about your shoes, with this size house you don't have to worry about shoes.

Come through, I'll get Bartram to fix us a drink and then we'll talk. What's your poison?

Thank you Bartram. Stay with us a while, will you. Please take a seat.

So... my understanding from your uncle is that you're in some financial difficulty, is that correct?

He told you that I had helped him once and now he feels that I can do the same for you.

Tell me, did your uncle disclose the nature of our professional relationship?

Hmm. Then either you're in deep trouble or your uncle trusts you implicitly.

David was the same - oh yes, when he first came to me he was truly in hot water. Not a penny to his name and a reputation in tatters.

He's a CEO now, correct? Quite the prosperous company I've heard.

I can't guarantee you the same prosperity, I hope you realise that. What I provide is only... guidance.

Take Bartram here, he's been in my service for just under a year now. You might recognise him, do you follow boxing at all? He was quite the accomplished athlete until he spent all of his money on drugs.

Oh don't worry, he doesn't mind me speaking about his past. Part of his rehabilitation is confronting and accepting that chapter in his life, one, with my guidance and a healthy dose of private counselling, is now firmly in the past.

Bartram, like David, craved discipline, focus and tutelage and I assure you under my roof you'll get all three and more.

But what's the price... I can almost hear you thinking that. Ha! Well, no service is free you're smart enough to know that.

Well to begin with you'll have to move home and live here. You'll be under my watch 24/7 and will be expected to run my household in the manner of a standard domestic servant.

You're not paid of course but there are no hidden fees wherein you debt yourself - I don't charge you for living here, eating from my table or providing you with these opportunities. It's a programme, much like education only the results are a lot more palpable.

You'll attend business meetings with me, run my calendar, network with my clients as well as complete domestic chores here at home alongside your other duties.

Other duties... yes, very astute of you to point that out.

Bartram, I feel as though my guest could use a demonstration. If you could be so kind.

//Bartram falls to his knees, a belt is unbuckled and we hear the sounds of a mouth working.

The look on your face is priceless. I never get used to that. Don't be shocked, this is the answer to the question. In order to access my resources, in order to get your life back on track, sometimes you'll have to... tend to my needs.

My boy Bartram here has been a fine student, he has truly embraced the teachings - just as your uncle did - I must say I will be sorry to see him go.

He really is quite an expert with his mouth. Apologies, where are my manners, perhaps you'd like to sample him? I assure you he is a premium grade cocksucker.

No? Hmm, well then the fact you can't take your eyes off of him tells me... you want to be in his place?

Hmm, we'll get to it. Bartram here took time to get used to it as well, at first that is. I still remember him spluttering and gagging when he did this for the first time. And look at him now. As you can probably tell... I'm very patient.

So, you're probably concerned that you'd be entering into some kind of domestic sex slavery. Slavery is a foul word. You can leave whenever you choose and the term is fixed for a specified length of time. There is a contract, that much you should know, but the terms are very flexible and there's a cool off period and bi monthly reviews to ensure I'm being a... fair... employer. I really like to keep things above board to ensure things that happen below are mutually appreciated.

Will you be expected to do more? Yes. If you think a mouth is enough to satisfy me then you have a great deal to learn. I'm close friends with the famed Kaito Tanaka, perhaps you've heard of him? He's quite a prolific bondage artist, expert at tying the most exquisite knots you'll ever see. He'll be here to teach you the art and on occasion, tie you up so that I don't have to.

Ha! I think we're going to get along.

How do I know?

Well for a start you're still here, you touched your neck when I mentioned the rope and your eyes... your eyes give you away... much more than whatever's happening in the seat of your pants.

A keen eye is a trick of the trade.

Come. I think Bartram has proven my point. At ease Bartram.

You're welcome.

So... you packed a suitcase correct? Good. You're welcome to think it through over the course of the evening. But of course you're also welcome to sample your new boss if you so wish. I'm going nowhere until I've reached climax and that will either be with your help or Bartram's.

Your choice my boy.

I thought so. Please, help yourself.

Hmmm... you're eager, I'll give you that but... no, no no no. You're too fast, you're not thinking. I don't want an employee who gets overtaken with lust so easily. Bartram, I think he could use your assistance. Now, watch closely.

See how he begins not with the shaft but with the thighs. He shows me his appreciation of the opportunity by paying homage to me. I am, for lack of a better word, his master and he understands that I need to be worshipped entirely not just satisfied with a quick blow n go.

Watch how those full lips work their way up to the balls and how wide his tongue gets when he laps at them. Bartram heel, allow our guest to do the same. Go ahead, like you've been shown.

Mmm... very good. Very good indeed. Join him Bartram. Two mouths at once is a rare treat. Boy, watch what Bartram does as he moves onto my cock. He takes a great deal of time with the head, just how he has come to like it.

Bartram remind me to increase your gym time and have Geoffrey review your diet plan, I don't think you're as pumped as you could be.

Very good. You see boy, times like this are an excellent method for employer and employee to catch up and review. Having a single point of focus being an excellent method of honing one's concentration.

It would benefit you greatly to arch your back my friend, remember this is as much an interview for me as it is for you. Show me what you're working with.

Mmm... very good. I can already see that perhaps we need to start you on lower body work outs to begin with. I like a little bounce when I fuck. Oh yes, again I will reiterate that you'll pay for nothing when you're here. You'll have an entire team of people employed by me to ensure you remain in tip top condition.

Truly, the amount of time you'll spend in my bed or on your knees is paltry in comparison to the sheer wealth you'll gain from submitting.

I think our friend understands now Bartram, I would have him show me what he's learned. Go ahead. Impress me.

//Moans

//Climax

You - You're a quick learner. I'll give you that.
Don't worry about the mess. Bartram, please.

Hmm... I think we'll certainly get a long just fine. I'll have the contract drawn up for you tomorrow. You're welcome to wander the house in the meantime or get to know Bartram a little better once he's cleaned me up.

The time is really up to you, use it wisely because when you sign that piece of paper... and I want you to hear this as plainly as I can make it - when you sign that piece of paper... you're mine.
