

Which of these phrases do you hear? Match the phrases to the gaps.

- A). Are you good at teaching?
- B). How well can you speak English?
- C). Can you teach?
- D). Do you like animals?
- E). I can speak English well.
- F). I can't go for eighteen months.
- G). I'm not very good at writing
- H). I don't like animals
- J). I love them!

T: Hello, Gap Year Volunteer Work. Can I help you?

S: Yes, hello. I'd like some information about your gap year jobs. I'm a student and I want to travel next year. Do you have any interesting volunteer jobs?

T: Sure. We have a job for English teachers. (1)_____.

S: Err. I don't know. (2)_____, but what other jobs are there?

T: Can you write? There's an English newspaper in Bolivia. They need journalists. But it's for 18 months.

S: No, I can't go for 18 months. And (3)_____. Is there anything else?

T: Do you like animals?

S: Yes, (4)_____!

T: Well, we have a job in Zambia. It's with lion cubs.

S: Wow! That sounds interesting. What's the job exactly?

Answers:

T: Hello, Gap Year Volunteer Work. Can I help you?

S: Yes, hello. I'd like some information about your gap year jobs. I'm a student and I want to travel next year. Do you have any interesting volunteer jobs?

T: Sure. We have a job for English teachers. Are you good at teaching?

S: Err. I don't know. I can speak English well, but what other jobs are there?

T: Can you write? There's an English newspaper in Bolivia. They need journalists. But it's for 18 months.

S: No, I can't go for 18 months. And I'm not very good at writing. Is there anything else?

T: Do you like animals?

S: Yes, I love them!

T: Well, we have a job in Zambia. It's with lion cubs.

S: Wow! That sounds interesting. What's the job exactly?