

1. Using the pattern provided, put your ideas into an Outline in a Google Document. You must not use full sentence structure. Simply put notes into what will eventually become your Essay structure.

Beside each "Details" part in the Outline write the number that refers to the website where you got the information from. This will be important to refer back to for the next step in your academic writing process.

- Introduction
 - General Statement
 - Thesis Statement
 - Point 1, Point 2, and Point 3
- Point 1 (plus first Support)
 - Support 1 (the Topic Sentence of your paragraph including your Point and first Support)
 - Details - Source - (the main information from your source with source number)
 - Analysis (the discussion of the Details and their importance)
 - Support 2 (the transition to your second Support of your Point)
 - Details - Source - (the main information from your source with source number)
 - Analysis (the discussion of the Details and their importance)
- Point 2 (plus first Support)
 - Support 1
 - Details - Source -
 - Analysis
 - Support 2
 - Details - Source -
 - Analysis
- Point 3 (plus first Support)
 - Support 1
 - Details - Source -
 - Analysis

- Support 2
 - Details - Source -
 - Analysis
- Summary
 - Point 1, Point 2, and Point 3

2. Share your Outline as a Google Document on the due date in your schedule. Be sure to use the following name for your document using your personal information.

ENGL140 Essay 1 Outline - KELLY, Chris