

“Words and Actions”
2022 FLAND Summer Conference

June 6 - August 1: 8-week Asynchronous Book Study (only for those seeking PD credit)

August 9 - 10: Conference at Concordia College, Moorhead, MN

August 15: Submit Unit Plan (only for those seeking PD credit)

Join the Foreign Language Association of North Dakota (FLAND) for their 2022 Summer Conference course, "Words and Actions." In this conference course, participants will participate in a book study (asynchronously) and also attend (in-person) the FLAND conference August 9 and 10, 2022 at Concordia College in Moorhead, MN.

To receive 2 Professional Development credits, you must participate in the 8-week book study prior to and attend the in-person conference. If you do not want Professional Development credits, sign up and attend the conference on August 9 and 10. There is no 1-credit offering.

The central piece of this course will be the book Words and Actions: Teaching Languages Through the Lens of Social Justice, by Cassandra Glynn, Pamela Wesely, and Beth Wassel.

Participants will read and complete the assignments outlined below. They will bring that learning to the in-person conference and work on adapting an existing unit or lessons for Social Justice. At the end of the conference, participants will have a new or modified unit to bring to their students that has the lens of Social Justice. This Unit Plan will be submitted as the final project.
