

September in the Library

Dear Salish Coast Families,

Hello again from your school librarian, Captain (Cameron) Quinn. We began our year as library sleuths, practicing our safe and effective observation skills through scavenger hunts and spotting clues of what not to do with a library book while reading a Perfect\(ly Messed Up\) Story. I've been setting up CLEO library cards for new students so all families will have access to our school and public library resources before the end of the month.

4th and 5th graders are already leveling up their tech skills with Google Workspace through the first of several longer projects this year has in store. Soon TTK through 3rd grade will begin listening to this year's WCCPBA nominated titles, starting with a connection to our beautiful garden (in both Spanish and English - Feliz National Hispanic Heritage Month) & Growing an Artist.

Our website (salishcoast.ptschools.org/academics/library) has a home for these newsletters! Click on the envelope icon for access to the latest update as well as archived letters. I am looking forward to connecting with all the families of Salish Coast Elementary and supporting your love of reading and learning!

Sincerely,

"Captain" Cameron Quinn
