UNDERTALE: Sans and Papyrus

- They are HAWAIIAN

- Sans works as a part-time anesthesiologist and a teacher at Ebott University as a professor in Astronomy-Astrophysics and Papyrus works as a security guard at the hospital Sans works at.
  - Sans is 5'7" and Papyrus is 6'2"
- Nicknames for Sans: Vanilla (Red), Other brother (Saint), Classic (Red), Occasionally Lazy me (Blue)
- Nicknames for Papyrus: Cream Puff (Red), Puffy (Red), Papy, Paps (Sans), Lesser me (Edge), Weakling (Edge)
- Sans' pronouns: He/Him
- Papyrus' pronouns: He/Him

UNDERFELL: Red and Edge

- They are MIXED (Black and Puerto Rican)

- Red works as an Algorithms engineer and Edge works as a Chef (inspo from MaM).
  - Red is 5'8" and Edge is 6'4"
- Nicknames for Red: Edgy me (Blue), Edgy sr. (Sans), Geek (Money)
- Nicknames for Edge: Boss (Red), Red Ramsey (Red), Edgy
- Red's pronouns: He/him
- Edge's pronouns: He/Him

UNDERSWAP: Blue and Stretch

- They are PUERTO RICAN

- Blue works as a police officer (in the same department as Sir) and Stretch works as an architect (inspo from MaM).
  - Blue is 5'9" and Stretch 6'2" (but slouches and looks 6'0)
- Nicknames for Blue: Baby Blue (Red), Weaker-ling (Edge), Blueberry (Red and Cesare)
- Nicknames for Stretch: Papy (Blue), Pothead 1 (Formerly, Red), Pothead (Red), Annoying Orange (Mutt)
- Blue's pronouns: He/Him
- Stretch's pronouns: He/They

FELLSWAP (GOLD): Sir and Coffee

- They are RUSSIAN

- Sir works as an officer and Coffee works as a barista (at UT Muffet's (Wisteria) cafe)
    - Sir is 5'9" (6'4" in heels) and Coffee is 6'3"
- Nicknames for Sir: Mom (Red), Mister (Coffee), Sire, Chief
- Nickname Is for Coffee: Latte (Red), Incel (Stretch), Baby brother (Sir), Мышь (Sir)
- Sir's pronouns: He/She/They (any/interchangable)
- Coffee's pronouns: They/He

SWAPFELL (purple): Cesare (Chess-A-Ray) and Money

    - They are KOREAN
- Cesare works as a lawyer while Cash works as a book writer (u guessed it, inspo from MaM) (please check this fic out on ao3 plsss :D!)
    - Cesare is 5'9" and Money is 6'4"
- Nicknames for Cesare: Plum (Blue), Cesare [see-zher] salad (Red), Captain
- Nicknames for Money: Pothead 2 (Formerly, Red), Gucci (Red), Papy (Cesare), Bookworm (Blue), Diabetic (Edge), BBNO$ ([Bibinos], Red)
- Cesare's pronouns: He/They
- Money's pronouns: He/Him

HORRORTALE: Ace and Saint

    - They are ITALIAN/SICILIAN
- Ace works as a Butcher and Saint works as a Veterinarian
    - Ace is 6'1" (slouches so looks 5'11") and Saint is 6'6"
- Nicknames for Ace: Axe (formerly), Bear (Money), Spades, Crackhead (Red), Finding Dory (Red), Cherub (Saint)
- Nicknames for Saint: Angel, St. Peter (Red), Crooks (Formerly), Lady Liberty (Ace)
- Ace's pronouns: prefs They/Him, doesn't mind He/Him
- Saint's pronouns: They/It

SWAPFELL (red): Black and Mutt

    - They are FILIPINO
- Black works as a lawyer as well and a translator for Spanish speakers for fun and Mutt works as a Veterinarian with Saint
    - Mutt is 6'1" (slouches so looks 5'11") and Black is 5'7"
- Nicknames for Black: BlackBerry, Berry, Speakeasy (Red), Geek (Mutt), Dog mom (Red)

- Nicknames for Mutt: Pup, Wolfgang, Mozart (Red), Doggy (Red), Freak (Stretch), Wolf (formerly)
- Black's pronouns: He/They
- Mutt's pronouns: He/Him

- Blue and Stretch were the first two to end up with Papyrus and Sans. Sans expected their arrival but didn't expect the others'.
    - In order, it was: US, SFP, FSG, UF, HT, and then SFR came at the same time last.
- EVERYONE'S PRONOUNS, SEXUALITIES, ETC:
    - Sans: He/Him, Bisexual, and Demi-Aroace
    - Papyrus: He/Him and Pansexual
    - Red: He/Him, Bisexual, Demi-romantic, open to poly relationships but will take a lot of time and commitment (this is true for most of them honestly)
    - Edge: He/Him, Unlabeled but def not straight
    - Blue: He/Him, Pansexual, possibly into leather/BDSM
    - Stretch: He/They and bisexual
    - Cesare: He/They, Omnisexual (pref for men), and Ace-spike
    - Money: He/Him and unlabeled, "open to anything"
    - Sir: Any, unlabeled, poly-curious
    - Coffee: They/He, Masc-leaning enby, and Achillean
    - Black: He/They and Mascic
    - Mutt: He/Him and Omnisexual (pref for enbies)
    - Ace: Pref They/Them but doesn't mind He/Him, Queer, polyamorous
    - Saint: They/It, Ace (sex-favorable) but otherwise unlabeled ("love doesn't need a label")
- Black and Coffee are the only ones who are exclusively attracted to men/masc people.
- Blue's a manipulative little shit, same with Sir. Blue knows not many assume that he's capable of doing incredible or seemingly impossible feats and uses it to his advantage when benefits him or his loved ones. Sir rarely lies or manipulates a situation, and when he does, it's when he feels threatened or in danger because it's what he's used to in his AU or just for fun.
- Coffee's actually the youngest out of everyone in the house. 461 is 19-20 in monster years and 17-19 in skeleton years (skeleton monsters live up to 3000-10,000 years). He also has autism (much like the OG version of him) and is selectively mute. He talks mainly to his brother and to Blue but writes down whatever he says in a notepad. Any other time is when he's play a game with the others and they need to communicate.
    - On the other hand, Ace is the oldest. He is around 2,047, which is 35-45 in monster years and skeleton years. He's already started to show his age with how much he complains about children or how easy the others have it (which, honestly, isn't false).

- Saint has problems with their magic ever since the famine in HT. After a few months of living in the AU house, they've been able to produce stable magic but still can't do much. They have braces and glasses to at least feel normal, as well as a wheelchair (reasons are farther down the list).
- Cesare has OCD — Symmetry and Order. Money knows this and tries, for his and Cesare's sanity, to keep things in the kitchen and in the Attic in order.
- Blue is powerful w/ or w/o magic but owns two firearms regardless: A Glock 20 and a M4 carbine, both of which he has licenses for!
    - The other ones who have guns are Cesare and Sir.
- Instead of having the machine in the basement (like in most fics), the machine is located in the Attic and the door locked. He teleports himself into the room, and Sir holds the extra key in case of emergencies (ie. Toriel, Asgore, or Alphys comes over).
- Ace isn't ashamed of their AU. They know that what they did was wrong and that they should be ashamed, but they aren't. Because they know the others would do the exact same thing in their position. They are technically just an older/what if version of them all.
- Unlike their brother, Saint is massively ashamed of the lifestyle they had to live. They don't blame Ace for protecting them but they blame themself for not trying hard enough to find another way out.
- Blue and Cesare don't get along very well. Blue also doesn't get along with Black either. Blue and Red are more friends than Blue is with Cesare. Black and Cesare are friends because of their shared dislike over Blue.
- Papyrus wears glasses but doesn't wear them often because he thinks he looks dorky.
- Papyrus has chronic pain (mostly migraines but also suffers from early onset Osteoarthritis). It's mostly around his wrists and knees, which is why he tries to wear gloves and pants, or anything that covers his knees and wrists enough.
- Stretch suffers the same thing except a little worse. The pain prevented him from being energetic. He decided to mellow down so he didn't make his condition worse.
- Saint suffers the worst of it and then some, unfortunately. Their migraines are constant, their bones feel dry constantly (which was normal for some skeleton monsters but not all) which makes their arthritis worse, and with their already present disabilities, they can barely stay up for long before they need their wheelchair.
- Edge and Coffee are the only ones who only suffer from chronic migraines, nothing else. They don't suffer the same way as the other Papyri (Money, and Mutt have the same amount of pain at OG Papy).
- Sans and Red also wear glasses but Red wears them more often because he reads a lot more than people think (even if what he reads might be magazines nine times out of ten).
- Everyone, excluding Money, was actually surprised when Cesare revealed he went to law school and graduated. He knew why they might be surprised but he still got annoyed at their disbelief regardless.

- Cesare, Money, Sans, and Red all currently suffer/have suffered from suicidal thoughts and moderate-severe depression.
    - Cesare still suffers from depression and is luckily going to therapy (online). The first few months living in the AU house, he tried to kill himself but failed either because he couldn't go through with it or because his brother found him first.
    - Those times his brother found him first were the times he might've actually gone through with it.
    - Money developed depression shortly after he started doing drugs and gambling in his underground, mostly from the stress and guilt he felt from how his actions may have affected his brother. Since appearing at the house, he's been ~4 years sober and keeps jars of pop tabs from soda cans. Every pop tab is one step further in healing.
    - Sans developed epistemological nihilism and depression after years of dealing with the 6/7 (SILENCE) human souls and countless resets. He almost gave up a long time ago but once a new Frisk (the Frisk he has now on the surface) actually managed to free everyone, he did regain a bit of hope. He never attempted, simply because he loved Papyrus too much to leave, but he's thought about it many times.
    - Red debated everyday, in his underground, just letting whatever lucky monster found him first kill him. He joked a lot and purposefully started fights with the more aggressive and irritable monsters in order to get them to fight.
    - Edge knew what his brother was doing. That's why he always managed to step in at "just the right time."
- Ectos exist.
    - Skeletons are much like fish. They can change gender at will to fit a situation. They do this using ectos.
    - Adding on, skeletons are technically born genderless. Appearance and voice doesn't even matter if you can change your gender anyway. Most "AFAB" or "AMAB" skeletons just refer to skeletons who figured out their identity at a younger age.
- Sir, Edge, and Saint care the least about how people think of them (gender/clothing wise). They'll wear a dress one day and a suit the other. And they'll dare you to try and say something about it.
    - Do it.
    - They dare you •_•
- Most monsters have heats, skeletons included. Unfortunately, since they are just AUs of each other, their heats happen around the same time. It was awkward the first few years but everyone managed to learn each other's habits and what to expect during these times.
    - Sans acts as normal mostly, if not just a bit more closed off.
    - Papyrus is more energetic and air headed. But since he has chronic pain, the heat makes it worse. He'll end up having to take nearly boiling hot baths in order to "melt" the magic build up in his joints, but thats only if he overworks himself. He actually tries to take it easy during this time.

    - Red becomes more flirtatious but also more open, it's easier to talk to him.
    - Edge is more vulnerable but less vocal. He'll refuse to talk and will straight up ignore others if he doesn't want to talk.
    - Blue acts mostly normal, it will be sort of hard to tell if he's in heat.
    - Stretch tries to act normal and sleep it off but ends up needing to take warm baths every other 2 hours (chronic pain).
    - Sir becomes a bit more irritable, it's best to leave her alone if she's out of her room. Or at the very least try not to get on their bad side too often.
    - Coffee becomes more shaky and less likely to speak, verbally and through writing.
    - Cesare becomes emotionally vulnerable and more likely to cry.
    - Money is another one who acts mostly normal, if not a little flirty.
    - Black hides in his room most of the time. He doesn't want to be seen in heat.
    - Mutt is more easy to fluster and takes things more personally.
    - Ace hates to admit it but he acts a little more feral. With the promise of food, he becomes more compliant and docile to some degree.
    - Saint often stays in its room since its condition prevents it from even getting active. Buildup of magic in its joints and scars makes its pain worse and, while hot baths help, not much can be done except helping it relax.
- Unfortunately, only the big four (US, UT, UF, and HT) somewhat went through the "Handplates" treatment (though even this has my own take on it).
    - UT follows the regular HP timeline with differences being that Gaster created Sans before creating Papyrus. He also managed to find a permanent way to stay and restore his position in the universe.
    - US's difference is that Stretch ended up being the weaker and "defected" one of the two and as a result became more lazier, which made Blue carry the optimism for them both. Their Gaster, unlike UT Gaster, doesn't regret what he's done and fully believes that what he did was justified. They removed their handplates themselves and were taken care of by Queen Toriel instead of Asgore.
    - In UF, Edge actually doesn't end up healing their Gaster when Red pulls him into the barrier and frees them both. They both then manage to escape and end up being taken care of by their Gerson. UF Undyne (Uma) actually ends up making Edge Co-Captain because of how close they were growing up.
    - HT follows the main UT handplates storyline except when Gaster falls, the universe doesn't erase him from existence. Ace and Saint end up just surviving on their own without Asgore or Toriel's help.
    - Barely anyone in the house likes Gaster, regardless of if they went through his experiments. But Red, Edge, and Ace hate him the most. Edge, Red, and Ace have to be out the room if he comes out the shed.
- Ace is the only one in the house that has a tail (or at least one longer than the others). It acts like a weird mix between a cat and dog tail. It curls when he's pleased or content, it rattles lazily if he's chuffed or smug, it wags when he's excited or happy, it goes between his legs when he's terrified, and it rattles loudly and aggressively like a rattlesnake when he's angered or threatened.

    - It grew after an especially cruel experiment conducted on Ace by HT Gaster. It made him deformed.
    - Red has the second longest tail and Money has the shortest (he gambled it off to someone he used to indulge with for extra Gs to buy Cesare a gift).
- Oftentimes, Blue overworks himself. Whether it be trying to take on more responsibility in the department or volunteering for harder missions, he's a perfectionist who constantly wants to be greater. As much as he hates to admit it, he knows that no matter how much work he does, he'll never feel like he accomplished enough. He's working on fixing that (ps, Cesare and Black go through the same thing).
- Stretch isn't the easiest person to get along with. He acquired his brother's perceptiveness and ability to tell when someone is lying. Even then, he still can't trust what someone says.
    - Those he doesn't trust are often treated a little harshly. He'll try and hide his disdain but he'll do it very poorly
    - He doesn't want Blue to catch onto his treatment of others. The last time Blue did, they didn't speak for almost 2 months.
    - Blue doesn't like when Stretch tries to "defend" him from others. He's the older brother and needs Stretch to realize that.
- In order, these are the ones that are most likely to purr:
    - Ace - purrs if you blink at him honestly (only if he likes you), he also purrs very loudly. Think of Rottie rumbles combined with a motorboat.
    - Saint - inherits this from Ace ofc
    - Papyrus - purrs when excited and that's most of the time
    - Money - another one who uses his purrs to tease
    - Sans - only ever happens when he's really content or happy
    - Red - sounds like a geiger counter sometimes but when he purrs, he really likes you.
- Anyone not mentioned can and does purr occasionally but it's very very hard to make them purr due to their past or because of their own personalities (or a combination of both).
- Red has a crack on the back of his skull. It's not because of Edge's enemies or fights but because he accidentally fell down the stairs once when Edge was out the house and never told him. This was when Edge was a toddler in school. He's too embarrassed to admit where it came from so he lied to Edge that someone tried to break in and he stopped them.
    - He's also sort of jealous of Edge's scars that he got from King Asgore since those scars have a much cooler backstory.
- Edge has amazing fashion sense. He changes at least 4 times a day: once when he wakes up for work, one for when he gets home and gets to spend his free time doing what he wants, once for dinner, and last for sleep
- Most of the fell brothers like to complain, it's how they show affection. They like to pretend that what someone asks them will literally end the world but will do it anyways.

    - Edge and Cesare are chronic bitch-ers and moaners. They'll complain just to complain, even if it's something as small as a bug they glanced at. But that's their love language.
- All can purr and hiss. Hissing or growling is more common for the Fell AUs than the other ones.
    - The first time anyone has heard Papyrus genuinely growl and hiss at something was when he saw Annoying Dog (or Toby) on a basket of freshly washed clothes in the living room. He sincerely dislikes dogs because of Toby and to see him in his home both surprised him and irritated him.
    - This was Sans' first time seeing his little brother hiss and growl—Papyrus did a lot as a kid but never around Sans. He teased the absolute hell out of Papyrus in true older brother fashion.
- Sans has Narcolepsy with Cataplexy. He doesn't get excited often but living in a house with other pranksters means getting surprised or jump-scared a lot. So often that Papy, Saint, and Cesare developed a seventh sense to throw a pillow under his skull when it happens.
- Along with having touch, taste, smell, and sight, monsters have two more senses: Soul aura and magic aura.
    - Soul aura: the ability to identify soul types, emotions, and/or intentions through magical output
    - Magic aura: the amount of power someone radiates or creates through emotions or intentions
- These senses, especially Magic aura, can help when someone is stressed or depressed. The monster' magical aura can snuff or uplift someone else's.
- Sans does it a lot with Frisk since DT souls have the closest connection to ancient mages and therefore more magical out

VOICE HCS!

    - Sans: Either Charlie/moistcritikal or his voice from the CPAU video
    - Papyrus: Skeletor obviously 🙄 but also maybe Revtrosity's voice of him?
    - Red and Edge: Crashboombanger. No further explanation needed.
    - Blue: CPAU blue voice. It's cutesy but secretly seductive. (Also mayhaps the MrAmazingVAOfficial. Mayhaps..)
    - Stretch: Prof. Venomous from OK KO Lets Be Heros!
    - Sir: Narrator from Stanley Parable (despite being Russian, he doesn't have a very deep accent.. or an accent at all really so just ignore the fact that the Narrator has an accent 💀)
    - Coffee: sounds like a mix of Evil Jax and CPAU Science Sans with the stutter of UT Alphys
    - Cesare: Sebastian Solace, sort of?
    - Money: Spike from PONY.MOV
    - Black: Keith Kogane from Voltron
    - Mutt: Peeta from Hunger Games but has a stutter better than Coffee's
    - Ace: Eeyore from TAOWTP
    - Saint: Vincent from Over the Hedge

- All fell-swap AUs (FSG, SFR, and SFP) have a sort of propaganda poster somewhere in their rooms. Some have it proudly displayed (Sir and Black), others prefer to hide it (Cesare and Coffee), but they all have at least one. No one knows where they got it.

EXAMPLES OF THE POSTERS (imagine they’re actually based around their underground politics and stuff)↓

ARE YOU
DOING ALL YOU CAN?

(Cesare gloved hand)

(Imagine maybe Sir or Black's star eyelight)
