The online test MUST be completed before you arrive for the live hands-on portion of this class. After the online test is completed, you must complete the hands-on portion within 90 days.

- You will need to obtain an 8th edition NRP Learner's Manual to review prior to the exam
- UPH-Meriter employees may self check-out a book from the Pregnancy & Newborn Care office on 6-Center. Books are in the filing cabinet across from the elevators
- UW / AFCH employees may check-out a book from their unit. NRP books are available for check out in the 8315 office suite near the manager's office
- Other attendees should check their local resources to borrow a book or obtain one through the AAP website: www.aap.org
- Take the time to become familiar with the NRP algorithm and the steps to resuscitate a neonate before you begin the online exam. These efforts will make the online test and the hands-on session easier for you
- The AAP dictates that the course begins with the online test, therefore, no review is provided
- Being familiar with the content will save you time taking the online exam which is open-book
- You may take the online test from home, but if taking from home, we ask that you complete the test at least 2 hours prior to the live class
