

Woman – FVO 30 Years gossipy – She’s definitely sleeping with the boss!

Diana – FVO 24 casual – Are you sure?

An explosion rocks the laboratory. Cut scene.

Narrator – MVO – Diana Morgan is a veterinary professional leading a fairly normal life, until a gas explosion in her laboratory throws her against a brick wall and puts her into a coma.

Diana – FVO sleepy – Mm (waking up).

Servant – MVO cheerful - Greetings of the day, my lady, I hope yours has been a fulfilling slumber.

Diana – FVO SHOCKED – What? Who are you? Who am I?

Servant – MVO mildly surprised – Why this but me? Your loyal servant!

Narrator – MVO – Shocking to her core, Diana realizes that something must be massively wrong.

Diana – FVO hushed tone, talking to herself – I am either dreaming, seeing or hallucinating. It’s also possible that I’m unalive, that explosion, I don’t remember waking up from it. Whatever it is, I have to play along to find out the truth.

Diana – FVO loud and clear – Right, loyal servant, I wish to test you this morning. I shall now ask you questions, and you are to answer me. Who am I?

Servant – MVO – Aa... anytime, my lady! You are nobody other than Lady Diana Morgan of the ancient family of defenders! Your family and you define this military garrison.

Diana – FVO trying to fake that she’s normal – Obviously. Remember, this test is very important for you. Now, where is this military garrison?

Servant – MVO – In the Great Kingdom of York, my lady.

Diana – FVO – ... And what year are we in?

Servant – MVO – Year! The 745th year since the Fall of the Dragon.

Diana – FVO hushed tone, talking to herself – This is definitely not Earth... This cannot be a dream either. I must find out what’s going on...

Narrator – MVO – And so, very smartly, Diana finds out most things about herself and this world she just woke up into. What she doesn’t know is that only her soul had left Earth for this dimension. Her original body lay in a state of coma at the hospital following the blast in her lab.

In this dimension, she was from a noble family who were in direct competition with the family which controlled the throne. Just then, a tall, handsome man, clad in royal robes, walks in.

Servant – MVO whispers nervously – My lady, my lady! Look, it's the Second Prince!

Diana – FVO whispers back – Of course I know he's the second prince. But your test isn't over yet, tell me what you know about him? Being a good servant means you must know everything about our great kingdom.

Servant – MVO whispers – He's your sworn enemy, my lady! I hate him! He was also your former lover, a most unfortunate pairing! He thinks you want to usurp the kingdom and keeps coming to our garrison because he thinks you're raising an army against the royal family!

Prince – MVO smart prince mocking the protagonist – Aah, I believe someone has woken up early today, going to spend another day mismanaging this garrison, Diana?

Narrator – MVO – Diana has stumped since this handsome man was her enemy and former lover. Clearly, they must have had a bad history, but Diana feet herself to drive to this man and his evil smile.

Will Diana fall for her enemy?

What dimension is she stacked in?

Will she ever find her way back?
