Hey Alex, ive been following you and your work on instagram for a while and i think that you have quite the potential to do much better and link properly with your fans and market yourself better.

I wish to help you in achieving all of it by helping you market yourself and your amazing products to your fans and clients, if you're interested in what i have to say and provide for you then do reply(old)

Hey Alex, I've been following your work for a while now and I have 7 points that can help you advertise your products and make your website sound more professional, do you want to know what these points are? I think you and your product have a huge potential to do a lot more so if you're interested in working together do reply.
