

Alice

Are you thinking of pursuing an acting career like your mother?

Alice: “Not particularly, no. My mother has never been that concerned with me following in her footsteps in that regard, and I’ve never been interested in being anyone but me. I have done some modeling, but that’s only natural for someone of my stature.”

Why are you so hostile toward Mina? Are you projecting, or is it your attempt to try to create a connection?

Alice: “Excuse me? What kind of nonsense question is that? Did they let some tabloid journalist in here? For starters, I don’t even know who Mina is.”

(Followup): “Mina is the unusually short girl in your class. Less than five feet tall, long blonde—”

Alice: “That girl is still alive!? Are you joking? I thought she got eaten weeks ago! Ugh, it’s disgraceful that this school would ever let someone like that in. Honestly, someone that pathetic being allowed to stand at the same level as someone with my talent? It’s downright insulting...”

Sam

Would you ever want to try out forms of alternative vore? At least once?

Sam: “Not really, they seem pretty weird to me. Like, they’re both y’know... sexual, which is already kinda awkward with most prey, and then you don’t even get to taste them? Or digest them, for, um... unbirth. Seems like a waste to me. I guess I’m curious enough to maybe try them once if the situation was right, but for the most part I’m good eating the normal way.”

Why do you like eating people so much? It almost seems like an addiction for you

Sam: “Woah what? Addiction? That’s pretty extreme, it’s not like I need to eat people, I just like to. A lot. Taking down prey is fun, and having a gut full of that much food is super satisfying. And

I don't know, Maeve did it all the time when we were growing up so it felt right to follow her lead, I guess. I can't imagine not being an active predator."

Has anyone made any attempts at adding you to their waistline yet?

Sam: "Nope, not that I can think of. Upperclassmen are all too terrified of Maeve, and anyone in my class that might not know to be scared of her is scared of me. Even if they haven't seen me in action for real, I've been acing all my predator labs. You don't mess with the best, y'know?"

Leah

You seem abnormally skilled for a predator. Why is that the case?

Leah: "O-Oh, um, I'll take that as a compliment, I think? Thanks? I haven't done anything special, I think I'm pretty average as far as predators go..."

Since you are into fantasy settings and, ya know, you like vore, is there an impossible type of vore that you wish was a thing?

Leah: "I, um... do people really want to know these things..? I guess... Well I have seen art of girls somehow 'eating' people with their boobs, a-and I would... honestly love to try that if it were possible. And I do think it would be, um, exciting to eat a bunch of tiny people... have a big gut full of a ton of prey all squirming around instead of just one... Uh, maybe not too tiny though? Like, if I were two or three times their size I think that could be really hot. O-Or even the other way around, being able to eat someone two or three times my size... Or if I was really small and a girl put me—U-UM! Sorry! Sorry, I... I think I answered the question by now..."

Kayla

Do you ever like, eat someone to get your protein after a workout? Seems like it would be a good way to do that.

Kayla: “Well, I have before, but it’s not like the opportunity comes up all that often. Someone’s gotta be a real jerk and in the wrong place at the wrong time for me to turn them into a post-workout snack. [laughter] It’s not actually a great idea anyway, as fun as it can be to joke about. Sure, you’re definitely getting plenty of protein, but there’s a whole lot else you’re getting too. You’re not ever getting out of eating someone without gaining at least five pounds in fat, and that’s not a good trade if you’re serious about staying in shape. Just go for a protein shake or something instead.”

Mallory

I heard that a bunch of people you know have all gone missing, I know that’s to be expected at SMVA but are you doing okay?

Mallory: “Oh my, thank you for the concern darling! I’m holding up alright, I assure you. It can be tough here at SMVA, but we all know what we signed up for. It’s just the way things go around here sometimes. [pause] You gathered these questions from others, correct? May I ask who submitted this?”

[Editor’s Note: Orchidlabs™ would like to assure you that client privacy is taken very seriously, and that no one’s identity was provided to any of the interview subjects.]

Cherry

As a connoisseur of fat asses, who has the best booty on campus?

Cherry: "Uh, me, obviously. Are you stupid?"

(Followup): "Excluding yourself, then."

Cherry: "Well then the question doesn't matter anymore, does it? You're gonna ask about whose cheeks are the sweetest and then tell me these babies [lewd gesture] don't count? This is rigged, I won't play your silly little game. [pause] Okay fine, if you're really gonna be a sourpuss like that, the answer is Professor Bora. It's not the biggest I've seen around here, but her ratios are literally perfect."

(Followup): "...ratios?"

Cherry: "You're lucky I even elaborated that much, buddy, figure it out yourself. I'm not gonna pull out the chart for ya."

Sunny

You seem to have taken Mary and introduced her to your stomach a few times now for fun. Ever considered taking Emma, or Emma and Mary?

Sunny: "Nah, I probably wouldn't do that to Em unless she asked. Teasing like that is fun, don't get me wrong, but Emma has a weird thing of, like, hating vomit to the point of panicking, and there's no way to avoid putting her through that on the way out. Well, there is one way but that would be a bit much for just messing with a friend [laughter]. So I wouldn't pull that kind of stunt on Emma, at least as a casual thing. And I'm not sure she even knows that I know what I mean by that last bit, so no [gesture], I won't explain."

You've got quite a reputation as a pred, any idea what your digestion count is for your time at MVA?

Sunny: "More than five and less than one hundred. That's the best I got. I was four cup sizes smaller when I started freshman year, if that helps. Or maybe five? I don't know, only people like Zoey bother keeping track of these things."

Professor Juniper

What made you want to teach at St.Miluina's?

Juniper: "Well, in all honesty, it just felt like the natural thing to do. I was a student myself years ago, and I thoroughly enjoyed my time here. I was quite the predator too, at the top of my class! Evelyn, just a teacher at the time, was the one to recommend the possibility to me. I didn't start right away, but as I mellowed with age I came to agree with her that this was the best application of my skill. And, well, here I am, doing my part to help new generations hone their craft!"

In terms of 'discipline', how many times have you gulped a student because they were out of line? How many have you digested?

Juniper: "I pride myself on being rather lenient as a teacher, but I still find myself needing to give a student 'detention' in my stomach at least a few times each semester. It may seem questionable to outsiders, but it's quite effective as a punishment. I'm happy to say that I haven't personally had to digest any SMVA students as of yet though! Well, not since I became a teacher, anyway [laughter]."

How do people out in the world react when they find out you are a teacher at one of the most prestigious vore schools? Has it affected your dating life?

Juniper: "Oh my, dating life? [laughter] I think my husband would have a bigger impact on that than my profession. At any rate, I do tend to avoid specifying where I teach if it isn't relevant, as reactions are often dramatic, one way or the other. Either they become frightened and dreadfully nervous around me, or get so excited as to treat me like a celebrity, there's rarely much of a middle ground. No one ever seems to suspect me!"

Maeve

Your friend Matilda seems to really like anal vore, but what about you? Do you practice any alternative styles of vore at all?

Maeve: "I've tried anal vore before—Matilda convinced me, and showed me the ropes—but I don't really get the appeal. Seems like an awkward, inefficient waste of effort to me, just to humiliate your prey a little bit more. I'm more than satisfied putting them in their place the old fashioned way. And unbirth... you can't even digest your prey that way, what's the point?"

(Followup): "Well, typically—"

Maeve: "Stop. I'm not a fucking idiot, I do actually know what the point is. It's just not for me."

Why did you decide to come to SMVA?

Maeve: "I was such a prolific predator coming out of high school that I was offered a full scholarship without ever reaching out to the school myself. I think my aunt might have tipped them off. Or maybe it was the dean of the local community college making a desperate attempt at avoiding having me on her campus. [laughter] Anyway, I would have been stupid not to come here after that."

Matilda

How did your very first "Monday Massacre" go?

Matilda: "Do you mean freshman year, or the first one where I got to do the fun part? Freshman year sucked, some junior shoved me up her ass. It was super fucked up, I didn't understand why someone would do something like that. Then when I was a sophomore and got my first chance on the other side of things, I shoved some nerdy freshman up my ass. I totally get why she did it now!"

Are you single? Would you ever date a freshman? Asking for a friend! ^^;

Matilda: "Single and ready to mingle, baby! There's a lot of me to love though, in more ways than one, and most people aren't up to the task. Never say never I guess, but I doubt a freshie could keep up. They'd have more luck applying to be my buttplug, maybe try to work their way up from there.~"

Morgan

Have you ever eaten one of your fellow tabletop game players?

Morgan: "A few times actually. I take my role as DM seriously, but I am still a Saint Miluina's student, after all. When I have a player that's particularly difficult or kind of toxic to the group, but never quite does anything bad enough to get forced out of the game early, I tend to make it a point to try to get their character eaten. And then when that finally happens... I make things a little more immersive for the player themself. It's fun, and like I said I don't do it randomly so it normally goes over surprisingly well with the rest of the group. The one time I did it that I noticed other members seeming legitimately uncomfortable, I did let the problem player back out and diffuse the situation—I still have a duty to make sure my players are having a good time, naturally."

Betty and Cassidy

How do you guys feel about the newcomers to your "team"?

Betty: "Gross, don't call us a team. I assume you're talking about Darcy and Elizabeth?"

Cassidy: "It's Elly! You, like, know that, silly. It's just like how you go by Betty instead of Bea—"

Betty: "Shut up! God, I cannot believe she told you that... I still don't even know how she found out! [pause] Whatever, the new girls are annoying. Darcy is a worthless meathead, Elly is an obnoxious fangirl. I guess it's a little entertaining how desperate she is to please Alice."

Cassidy: "Aw, I think they're both great! Well, I, like, haven't talked to Darcy that much, but Elly is super nice! I totally love her hair, and she, like, promised to show me where she got those cute stockings sometime! I'm, like, super glad she finally worked up the courage to talk to Alice!"

Betty: "...Cassidy?"

Cassidy: "Mmm-hmm?"

Betty: "Don't ever tell Darcy what I said. Got it?"

Cassidy: "You got it! Oh, and thank you for inviting me back for another question! Bye!~"

Kris

You're rather thin for an SMVA student—care to share any secrets for keeping the extra pounds off?

Kris: "Cardio. That's literally it, I just run a lot. I tell people I have a fast metabolism, but I don't actually know if that's true or how that even works."

What's the most money you've made from a vore-related bet?

Kris: "Alright so I probably shouldn't admit to this, because at the very least I really should have needed way more money to do something that stupid, but at a graduation party over the summer we all got super drunk and this one girl passed out hard. She's fine now so it's okay, but she was like, 'should have taken her to the hospital instead of fucking around' level out. Instead, through a chain of events I could not ever explain to you, everyone else pooled together $300 as a reward and bet me I wouldn't crawl through her. Yeah I said through, like in mouth, out butt. I told you I was dumb to do it. [laughter] Listen, I'm easily motivated by money and I was drunk enough that I probably would have done it for half that if I'm honest. Wanna know the crazy thing though? She never woke up! I've never talked to her after either, and while I'm sure someone recorded it and probably showed her, there's a chance she has literally no idea this happened. Isn't that wild?"

How many people have you eaten before arriving at SMVA?

Kris: "Eight. Is that low? Your face is telling me that's low. Shit, um... it was eight really impressive prey? Wait, were you fucking with me? You know what, whatever, I ate enough to get in. Case closed."

OSMI

Does your stomach have free Wi-Fi?

OSMI: "Yes, it does! All OrchidLabs™ proprietary androids come with built-in wireless hotspots so that we can transmit operational telemetry back to the lab! For your convenience, this connection is freely available to be used by registered clients as well. The signal is strongest while inside of my body. My password is 's10$h'! I am also bluetooth enabled. Thank you for your query!"
