

Let me be

Bears of legend

Let me believe, let me cut my hair
Let me be the man that I deserve
Let me pretend, let me wear my shoes
Let me make some mistakes on the way

Would you let me tell my stories
Of courage with no fear
Let me be
A choir to extend my voice
A tower to be tall for once
An endless river sailing me away
My love we are so lost now
This fear is growing inside of me

Ouh

Let me depart, let me leave this shore
I'll come back with the answers that I seek
Let me accept, let me do my best

And maybe throw the weight that's on my chest

Would you let me tell my stories
Of courage with no fear
Let me be
A choir to extend my voice
A tower to be tall for once
An endless river sailing me away
My love we are so lost now
This fear is growing inside of my body
Wait, my love we are so lost now
This fear is growing inside of me

Ouh

No there's no coming back
No there's no starting new
But we can, yeah we can be who
We have always dreamed to be
In the end
