Mission	To empower educators with industry connections so they can create cutting-edge curriculum that transforms their students' career trajectories.
Intern Title	Teacher Tours: Program Logistics &amp; Communications Intern
Internship Description	Do you love planning, organizing, and making things run smoothly behind the scenes? Join us as a Teacher Tours Intern and help bring unforgettable experiences to life! You'll play a key role in planning and coordinating our teacher tours—events that connect educators with inspiring workplaces and industry leaders. This isn't just about sending emails and making schedules (though you'll do that, too)—it's about creating engaging, seamless, and memorable events that make a real impact, including a feasibility study to explore the possibility of expanding our programming to the Seattle metro area. If you're detail-oriented, love working with people, and get a little thrill from checking things off a to-do list, this might be the perfect fit. Possible extension - Teacher recruitment: Help us promote our Fellowship Program to teachers in the Seattle metro area.
Responsibilities	Core Responsibilities <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Tour Planning &amp; Coordination: You'll be the go-to person for all tour logistics, from transportation to on-site needs. You'll communicate with partners and vendors to lock in all the fun details, like daily lunches and photo opportunities for social media.</li><li>Communication &amp; Document Creation: You'll have the chance to apply your creative skills by crafting clear, polished, and visually stunning schedules and itineraries that get everyone excited and keep them on track.</li><li>Team Collaboration: You'll work closely with our awesome team to pull off</li></ul>

	seamless events, troubleshoot on the fly, and even help onboard other interns or coaches. Specific Project: Seattle Metro Area Feasibility Study <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Objective: Help us be a detective and explore the possibility of expanding our programming to the Seattle metro area.</li><li>• Key Tasks: Using your skills, you'll research other teacher programs in the area and chat with our teacher alumni. Your work will be crucial in helping us figure out if there's a good market for Ignited in Seattle.</li><li>• Deliverables:<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ You'll recommend potential funders/companies to approach.</li><li>○ You'll scout and suggest the coolest tour locations that teachers will love.</li><li>○ You'll research the "hidden jobs" and in-demand skills in Seattle that pay well and don't always require a four-year degree, helping us guide students toward amazing careers.</li></ul></li></ul>
Qualifications ( required and/or desired )	What We're Looking For: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• A sharp eye for detail and a natural sense of organization.</li><li>• Strong written and verbal communication skills.</li><li>• Someone who takes initiative and thrives in a collaborative, fast-moving environment.</li><li>• Comfort with Microsoft Office or Google Workspace (Docs, Sheets, Slides).</li><li>• Interest in learning new tools like Canva and Monday.com.</li><li>• Bonus points for a creative flair with design and layouts!</li></ul>
Schedule	Meet with Ignited team 1-2x per week online via Zoom between 8:30-5:30 PST Otherwise independent work (flexible based on your own schedule)
Working Location	We are expecting this to be a largely remote position (85% of the time), however there may be some opportunities to be in-person, for example meeting with the Ignited CEO, meeting Ignited teacher alumni, visiting their classrooms and/or other teacher classrooms, and scoping potential teacher tour locations in the Seattle metro area. Access to a reliable laptop/computer and internet connection is required for this role.
