

Upham Woods Visits to West

The WWPA (West-Willson Parent Association) and the Baraboo School District has sponsored periodic visits to 4K and West kindergarten classes during the 2016-2020 school years by the Upham Woods Outdoor Learning Center, a University of Wisconsin Extension. Upham Woods staff bring various animals to 4K and K classrooms such as snakes, turtles, and other small reptiles to show students and to talk about how these animals live and how to use their adaptations to survive. We have worked with Upham Woods in the past and they have greatly helped our students to develop more background knowledge in different science areas, they have helped our students to have more hands-on and visual learning opportunities, and they have created more excitement about learning too. Our 4K and K staff members will take every precaution to make these science presentations completely safe and very contained for all classes involved. Parents are welcome to join these events too. Thank you to the Baraboo School District for helping to make these great learning opportunities happen for our students.
