NBC “The Voice” Alum CJW to Debut New Single

Chris Weaver will be Headlining Three Shows at NYC’s Waterline Square on October 14th

[New York, NY, October 11, 2022] On Friday, October 14th, CJW aka Chris Weaver will be debuting his single, “Take Your Time.” The song will be accompanied by an invite-only release party at NYC’s Waterline Square venue, where Chris will perform in three different shows, at 6:30pm, 7:30pm, and 8:30pm, on Friday the 14th. The anticipation for this release is at an all-time high, as the first two shows are already sold out! The release party will be sponsored by The 1Wine, Soundherd Records, and VReel (who will be streaming his performance at 7:30pm).

Chris Weaver, a New York native, grabbed America’s attention opening Season 13 of The Voice with “Try A Little Tenderness” turning all four chairs! Under mentor Jennifer Hudson, Chris continued to advance in the competition, finishing in the Top 24. Weaver was brought back to perform in the season finale, a first for The Voice to bring back a contestant as talent.

On December 25, 2020, Chris Released his Christmas single “Mary Did You Know,” winning the Akademia Award 2020 for the best new song. Chris is the ultimate professional. His talent is not only in front of the camera singing but his voice is one of a kind. Chris doesn’t enhance any part of his recordings. Warm, raw, edgy, powerful, tender, controlled, powerhouse and uniquely his own can all be used to describe Chris Weaver. Chris signed with Sound Herd Records in November 2021.

When you meet Chris, the conversation usually ends with “you better book Chris before someone else does” or “if you want to bring the house down, book Chris Weaver”.
