

Class War Saga Episode One: Capitalist Menace

In a bold move to appeal to the younger generations a series of short parody films were released during election, labeled Class War Saga. The first episode was the Capitalist menace. The plot follows two socialist sent by the AFL-CIO to try to work out a union agreement between Bloomberg and its employees, Union Representative PGF and his Union Apprentice Ermine arrive at the meeting arrangement and PGF using a mysterious energy field known as "The Theory." feels a great presence of Late Stage Capitalism which was clouding his vision into the future. Ermine says they have a bad feeling about this and says they need to negotiate, PGF tells his Apprentice to be mindful of Das Kapital.

Michael Bloomberg is sitting in his office and gets a hologram message from a robed figure named Darth Amazon. Michael Bloomberg informs Darth Amazon about how two socialist from the AFL-CIO were here for negotiations. Darth Amazon tells Michael Bloomberg that this puts his plans into disarray and that he has to accelerate them and tells Bloomberg to begin Union Busting. When Bloomberg asks that legal, Darth Amazon replies, "I will make it legal." He also informs Bloomberg to kill the socialist specifically saying, "Union Boss shouldn't of gotten them involved them onto this." Soon in the meeting room where PGF and Ermine are sitting toxic arguments are released. PGF and Ermine quickly escaping using their "Revolution Sabers." to cut through the door. They are soon confronted by a bunch of mindless Conservadroids, who begin firing upon the duo.

They quickly deflect their terrible arguments but were soon confronted by democraikas, conservadroids with liberal shields. Shouting things like “Common Sense.” and “A rational middle ground smh.”, our heros were able to deflect their arguments and make their escape.

After the ship they arrived in was destroyed are duo were left stranded until they snuck onto a Conservadroid transport. On the planet below workers were on strike against bloomberg, and the Union Council led by Union Boss parada was having a discussion on what to do. Local Union Representative Gunnz was talking about how the AFL-CIO was bickering too much to really move and end the police blockade, when suddenly the hologram that was projecting Gunnz’ image got interrupted and the council said that meant Union busters were here.

We then cut to a panning shot of Bloomberg ships landing and Conservadroids being deployed and marching and beginning to beat up strikers. While this was all occurring, PGF and Ermine were able to escape from the ship and began wandering looking for Union Boss Parada, while this was all happening PGF noticed a creature walking around picking up flowers and was about to be hit by a Conservadroid transport. He quickly rushed to the creature and tackled it, the creature acted very shocked and made very odd noises before both of them crashed onto the ground and the transport passed over head.

The creature introduced itself as Tucklet, she was from the race known as “Independent Progressives.” and that she owed him a life debt, but PGF urged that she didn’t but she urged him she did. PGF and Ermine had no way to get to city undetected and then Tucklet suggested they go to the Independent Progressives for help and so they did.

Going into an odd building shaped like a massive P, they met their King Carib who yelled at Tucklet saying she was banished. PGF then used the Theory to convince the King to give them a ship to at least get to Union Boss Parada and striking workers, Carib was convinced and soon the duo with tucklet were on their way, but said the quickest way to the strikers was going through the “Meta.” PGF and Ermine then left saying thank you, taking Tucklet with them . On their ride to the strikers they encountered various monsters like Nate, Oath and Eddie. Eventually they arrived and were able to destroy several Conservadroids and reach Union Boss Parada before she could agree to end the strike. So getting on Paradas ship and making a hasty escape they were shot at by police strikers causing one of the engines to break and they realized they had to land on some planet, so they landed on the planet of dixie.

Quickly Bloomberg contacts Darth Amazon and reveals what happened and how Parada had escaped. He reveals that he will have his apprentice Darth Bran track them down. When the hologram turns off, Bloomberg tells his associates. “Now there’s two of them.”

PGF got out and began looking for a replacement engine and encountered a slimey business owner known as ProgrammaticallySun. The Slimey Business owner, rejected using Labor vouchers and insisting using bitcoin which PGF didn't have. So PGF left upset but he met a child named Cold Brew Coffee.

Cold has aspirations of being a leftist, after talking with the Child PGF thinks he may be "Theory Sensitive." and gets Ermine to test him. It's off the charts, he has a higher "Marx." Count than any other leftist including grand master HSCTiger. The problem is Cold is a slave to Prog, so PGF makes a bet if Cold can win a debate with Joseph Ibney, they get the engine and keep Cold, if Cold loses Prog gets their ship.

While this was happening Cold was talking to Parada and says she looks like an angel. She is a bit flustered and says it was nice to meet Cold.

The debate is on and it looks like Ibney may win as he is kicking Colds butt. But then using the power of Theory, he is able to beat Ibney, use his theory power to blow up his legs and wins the debate. Prog is upset, but honors the deal. Cold says goodbye to his mom Mika, who reveals to PGF that Cold was a virgin birth, and he talks to Ermine about how Cold is the chosen one meant to bring balance to The Theory. While Cold approaches the ship, Darth Bran flies in a speeder towards him, PGF shouts to Cold to get down and he does while Darth Bran jumps off and gets in a Revolution Saber duel with PGF.

The duel is getting heated and Cold is about to take off, PGF is able to jump in his ship and they are able to take off and make it back to Atlantic, where Parada presents her case to AFL-CIO board and at the Socialist headquarters PGF would introduce Cold. He introduces Cold to the council, who begin asking him several questions. HSCTiger detects some capitalism in Cold and ask Cold what he thinks of the market he answers. "I think the market can be used to solve problems in life." HSCTiger then says they will not let Cold into the order, PGF then says he will personally train Cold and says he is the chosen one. They are then interrupted as they are sent on a mission to end the union busters.

Parada, PGF and Ermine, Cold and Tucklet head off back to the Strike. They get assistance from the Independent Progressives who were attacked by the Conservadroids for being "Islamic Communist." So the Independent Progressives assemble an army to attack the Conservadroids while Cold and the pilots head off into space to destroy "Louder with Crowder." which was keeping the Conservadroids up. Parada and her guards went to capture bloomberg, while Ermine and PGF battling Darth Bran.

Eventually Bran and PGF and Ermine fight into a secluded room where force fields separates Ermine from PGF and Bran. Bran takes advantage of this and stabs PGF.

Ermine screamed, and once force field was down rushed Bran but was swiftly thrown off a ledge dangling over the Bullmoose graveyard pit.

At the same time, Parada was able to get into her office and capture Bloomberg, but was then captured by Conservadroids. At the same time, Cold was able to destroyed louder with crowder shutting down all the Conservadroids. Letting Parada capture bloomberg.

While this was happening Bran was taunting Ermine who used the Theory to jump up and slice Bran in half before going to try to save PGF. PGF was dying and told Ermine to “train the child. He is the chosen one.” before he passed away.

There was a funeral for PGF, and Master PB told Grandmaster HSCTiger that the individual that PGF and ermine encountered was a “Capitalist.” HSCTiger said there were always two, a master and an apprentice and they didn’t know whether they killed the master or apprentice. Then they panned over to Gunnz who was smirking. Cold ask Ermine what’s gonna happen to him, Ermine says he will train Cold.

The final shot was Parada signing a new Union contract with Bloomberg with the Progressives and Union members celebrating, with Parada also giving medals to Ermine and Cold with the movie ending with cheers of workers continue to organize.
