

SUBJECT LINE: Best dress at an event for only under $50 with 100s of girls.

Jemma was searching for dresses for her upcoming dance.

She tried on dress after dress and no dresses she tried on felt pretty and confident on her.

She was losing hope in finding an affordable sparkly, pretty dress.

Me and my Mum stumbled across dresses for our budget so we bought them.

After Jemma tried on multiple dresses she put on a green sequin gown with some sort of stones near the bust (don't remember what type.)

We were amazed, she looked absolutely gorgeous. She knew it was the right one for dance.

Jemma turned up to the dance feeling pretty and confident but also feeling that she would get judged. That didn't happen instead, she got heaps of compliments on the dress. But that's not the only thing that shot her self esteem up.

But she won best dress. Out of the 100s of girls there she won with a dress under $50

Start feeling like yourself again. Pretty, confident and feminine. And don't make your bank account cry.
