

Desire

For society to put the pressure down on woman

To help woman and especially girls become strong woman

She wants society to change because woman strive to be thinner prettier more engaging by using extreme measures

To focus on our children that relationships start by understanding that loving and accepting yourself and who you are is the most important

Why fight when we can embrace?

Pain

For society to keep how it is

To be unable to help woman

Society will force even more woman into being better

Our children will not be important and they will be mislead from believing that loving and accepting yourself and who you are is the most important

For people to continue fighting instead of embracing

Hi Mary Rapini,

Let me begin by expressing my enthusiasm for the incredible opportunity I have in store for you—this is no sales pitch though! 🙌 But first, allow me to congratulate you for surpassing the remarkable milestone of 35,000 subscribers 🎉.

I am Tudor Trif, a Digital Media Expert on a mission to build and encourage healthy relationships, with the most significant one being the relationship we have with ourselves. My quest involves seeking out and collaborating with exceptional individuals and businesses that carry a powerful message for the world.

And that's how I found YOU! 😊 On my Youtube Feed.

I have to admit that your free YouTube videos on intimacy and relationship therapy have left me genuinely inspired in an awe-like manner. Your belief about how it is essential to teach girls and women alike how to become strong individuals who love themselves resonates deeply with my values. Your passion radiates like the scorching sun in a desert, driving your unseen dedication to change society, one person at a time 🧑.

Your genuine and compassionate nature shines through every video, forging a deep and lasting connection with your audience. Coupled with your extensive qualifications as a Licensed Professional Counselor 🧑 and a Master of Education, not to mention your personal experiences in therapy, you exude unparalleled credibility and command respect from any sane individual.

Your mission to positively influence lives resonates deeply with me, and I wholeheartedly endorse your powerful statement: "We can't control the family we're born into, the people we work with, or the unexpected events in our life, but we can control how we react to them..."

Your unwavering focus on teaching people how to react ✨ positively empowers even the most unmotivated and unheard individuals to proactively transform their lives.

Beyond addressing relationships, your message possesses the potential to instill understanding, compassion, and emotional well-being in all human beings, transcending barriers of race, nationality, or religion. Your profound perspective on intimacy and relationships delves far beneath the surface, igniting genuine transformations in people's lives.

I firmly believe that your message has the power to contribute significantly to creating a safer and more empathetic world. Your commendable approach of connecting with individuals rather than merely talking at them could potentially lead to substantial reductions in unfortunate events such as school shootings, drug violence, and domestic abuse. Why fight when we can embrace? I like the sound of that question . It got a subtle , but powerful ring to it 🛎️ . Your adeptness at tackling sensitive topics and providing practical solutions uniquely positions you to guide people through life's challenges.

Now, brace yourself, for the most exciting part 🎉 —I am confident that my expertise can propel you towards magnifying your impact and touching even more lives. Upon meticulous observation of your channel and social media presence, I found a wealth of untapped potential in your current marketing approach. Together, we can propel your mission far and wide, touching the hearts of millions across America and beyond.

I saw a crucial mistake in your Reaction Reset Section and no, it is not the lighting or the length of the videos. It is something very subtle, yet so valuable. It is something very crucial that I can tell has slipped your hands by accident.

The good news, I have just what it takes to fix it!

Collaborating with me as your strategic partner, I can guarantee a tenfold increase in your revenue and outreach. The methods and strategies I have in mind will radiate a far-reaching positive effect while preserving the essence of your authentic message. Expanding your reach will create a profound legacy of love, understanding, and empathy, resonating through generations.

I firmly believe that together, we can create a movement that not only touches lives but transforms them for the better. Let's embark on this incredible journey together! I would be delighted to arrange a call at your convenience to delve into the possibilities further.

Warm regards, 🔥
