

#DemandBetterFL Twitter Campaign for Saving Ballot Images for Over 11 Million Registered Voters in Florida

What time and day are we digitally gathering?

Tweet when you can!

What am I tweeting about?

In response to a recently filed lawsuit in Florida and concern for election security, the Indivisible Florida Network is advocating for Supervisors of Elections in Florida to save the ballot images for over 11 million registered voters.

In a letter addressed to Florida Secretary of State Laurel Lee and Department of State Director Maria Matthews, the Indivisible Florida Network, which represents over 17 state-wide groups and over 11,000 members, stated:

“We are writing to you to request that you direct all Florida Supervisors of Elections to preserve scanned digital ballot images in every election as a critical part of the election chain of custody.”

How will it work?

Log on to your twitter account and use the suggested tweets below or modify as you see fit. We have provided the text that you can modify or copy and paste on your twitter account and we have also provided a click to tweet link in yellow.

Throughout the day check the hashtags and retweet your fellow tweet stormers.

Use props, signs, images with the tweets to make them stand out if you can. The hashtags we are promoting are #DemandBetterFL AND #SaveBallotImages With each of us tweeting our own stories and retweeting each others' tweets, we'll be able to amplify our voices and make sure the Secretary of State hears us!

Do I really need to use the #DemandBetterFL and #SaveBallotImages hashtag in every tweet?

Yes. This is vitally important, because in using this hashtag in every tweet, we'll all be able to search for this hashtag to collectively uplift our individual tweets to the larger public, helping to drive even more public attention to our stories by elevating the hashtags to become a trend.
