

Literature Matrix

- If you need additional rows or columns, right click, select Insert, and choose the appropriate response.
- You can also change the paper size by going to Page Layout, Size, and choosing a bigger size to allow you to see more columns at once.

Research Question: Type your research question here
	Source A: Surname (Date)	Source B: Surname (Date)	Source C: Surname (Date)	Source D: Surname (Date)	Source E: Surname (Date)
Type your questions or topics into the grey boxes.	“What does this source say about the topic in the grey box to the left” (p. x)?	“What does this source say about the topic in the grey box to the left” (p. x)?	“What does this source say about the topic in the grey box to the left” (p. x)?	“What does this source say about the topic in the grey box to the left” (p. x)?	“What does this source say about the topic in the grey box to the left” (p. x)?

[illegible]