Terms & Conditions

- I have the right to refuse a commission if I believe it's too much for my current skill level or the themes make me uncomfortable
- Some prices are determined by the complexity of the design and commission
- Commissions require payment upfront, but we can discuss payment beforehand
- Please provide a thorough and updated reference (the more the better!)
- Commissions may take 2 months to complete (depending on complexity and backlog)
- You can ask for a WIP at any point
- Once a commission is discussed and paid for (or after a sketch is decided on for bigger projects) a refund at any point will not be given. If you want to discuss this please email

Send me a note or pm of what you want, a link to references, any themes or inspiration you might like in your commission. If you'd like a quote please detail what you'd like for your commission. If you're paying for a bigger piece, I'll send a sketch just to make sure it's going your way. Once everything's settled I'll get to work! After I've finished, I'll send it your way!

NOTE: Once I send your commission to you through email, please reply asap telling me you received it
