

Dear Mayor LAST NAME,

My name is NAME, and I am a resident of CITY NAME and a parent of two young children. I'm writing as a community member who values this city and believes strongly in the importance of clear communication between residents and local leadership, especially during times of uncertainty.

I want to begin by saying that I trust our local officials and recognize the complexity of governing in the current environment. I also recognize that many residents, myself included, are navigating new and unfamiliar concerns and are looking for clarity around what to expect and how to respond if unexpected situations arise.

Recently, I've seen reports from other communities describing immigration enforcement activity occurring in residential areas, near schools, and during routine daily activities. While I understand that federal actions are not directed by local governments, these reports have raised practical questions for many residents about local preparedness, coordination, and public guidance.

Specifically, I am hoping to better understand:

- If federal immigration agents were to conduct activity within CITY NAME neighborhoods, what role, if any, does the city or local law enforcement play?
- If residents observe individuals going door-to-door or claiming authority in a way that raises concern, should they contact the CITY NAME Police Department, and if so, under what circumstances?
- How does the city plan to communicate with residents in real time to prevent confusion, misinformation, or unnecessary fear if such activity were to occur?

I want to be clear that I am not writing to speculate or inflame fear, nor am I asking the city to take actions outside the law. My goal is simply to understand what guidance exists for residents so that, if something concerning were to happen, we know who to turn to and how to respond appropriately.

As a parent and long-term resident, I believe that clarity and transparency are essential components of public safety. Even high-level information about how the city approaches coordination, communication, and resident support in uncertain situations would be both reassuring and helpful.

Thank you for your time and for the work you do on behalf of our community. I appreciate any insight you're able to provide and remain grateful for the leadership and care invested in keeping CITY NAME a safe and connected place to live.

Sincerely,
