Written by: Ozzie

This document is not to expose nor attack anybody. It is to create an archive full of evidence towards this individual for the near future and/or for awareness of the borderline illegal actions committed by this user. DO NOT DOX OR HARASS ANYONE INVOLVED. Everyone who plays a critical role in the story will remain anonymous unless told otherwise. The last thing I need from this archive is someone getting hurt because of them again.

For those who don't know: Milk_rxlz is a popular dandys world animator widely known for her "Hold me now" animation meme consisting of Cosmo, Sprout and Glisten. She is also known for her yume oc "Kawamoto" shipped with Astro from Dandy's World.

TRIGGER WARNING: RAPE, N SLUR USAGE, GROOMING, NSFW ART, SEXUAL CONVERSATIONS

For this story to make some sense, we have to go back to the first time I ever met dollete. I first met them back in August of 2024 through another friend who had invited her to their server, the first time we ever talked was the 20th when I had asked her for her sona for fanart and she had sent me multiple references of her old dandy's world oc, as well as I sent her mine.

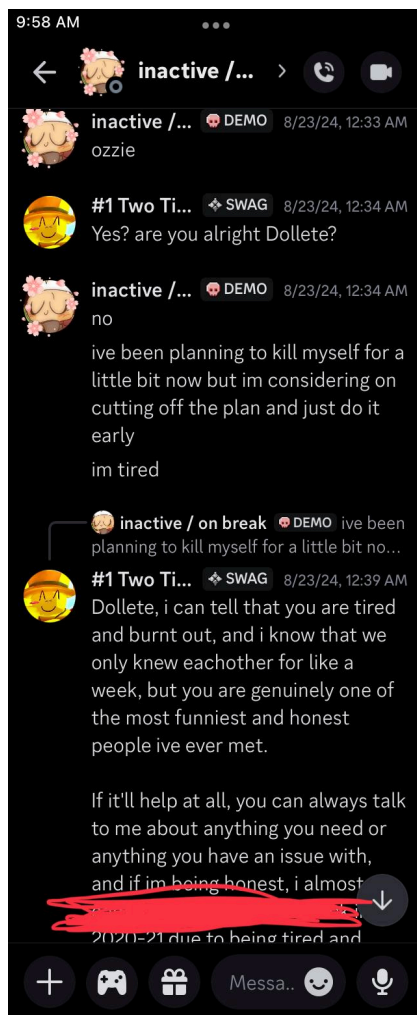

After this interaction, we started talking a lot more in voice chat. First it was in my friend's server, then it was in her old milk's dollhouse server, in which she had given me a friend role and then formally made me a server admin, and as much as I'd love to say that we were close friends, things took a turn for the worse.

At the time of me meeting Dollete, I was 16 and she was 17 about to turn 18 back in 2024, keep that in mind for the rest of this section.

On the 23rd of August, exactly around 12 AM, I had gotten a direct message from Dollete, her status was a vent, and as all friends do, I felt worried for her. So, I asked her what was wrong. She proceeded to open to me about her plans to commit suicide, her deteriorating mental state, and more issues that for her sake I will not go into.

Unfortunately, this started a chain reaction of events to which she would heavily depend on me for emotional support and to cope with her trauma.

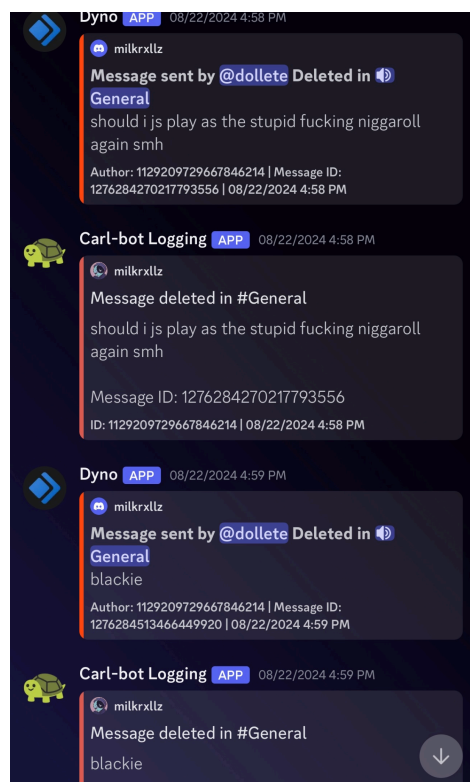

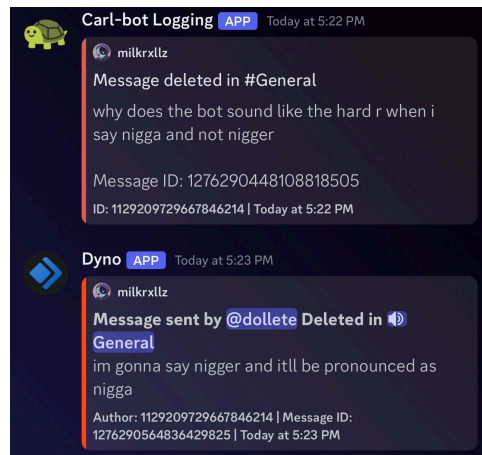

(The censored bit was me opening up about private stuff.)

I will admit, I did say that she could vent in my dms any time, which I definitely shouldn't have allowed to happen. As a minor, I shouldn't have been so willing to help an adult with their problems when I, myself, actively have mental health issues as well and I fully take the blame for allowing myself to be in that environment.

N SLUR USAGE

During August 22nd, 2024, She would say the N slur as a 'joke' within a server where she barely knew anyone but me and my partner. She says she was coaxed into making these types of jokes by her ex and their friends, however, she has continued to make racist jokes towards me and other black friends of mine despite them asking her to stop numerous times.

THE RAPE JOKES/THREATS AND KINKS

During 2024 to 2025, she would consistently make rape/molestation jokes towards herself and others. She'd joke about molesting people (including minors), talk about rape within a server full of minors, and discussed her rape kink with minors she deemed were "old" and "close" enough to know. Mind you, this minor didn't know Doll for over a month.

When she found out someone in the server reported her to Qwel and got her banned, Doll had a total meltdown and made rape threats to the reporter.

THE NSFW PROBLEM

Dollete has had a constant back and forth issue with sending minors nsfw art, more specifically from Dandy's World. This has also happened to me, back on the 26th of August, where I had sent her a drawing of Astro with him being naked, but only the back is showing and nothing else. I had also spoiled the image as I was extremely embarrassed by it. Dollete, however, had sent me porn that belonged to her and other artists about 2 hours after I sent the image, with her message containing un-spoiled nsfw of Dandy's World characters.

It isn't only me either as she has also sent porn art in other minor's dms. She also sent porn on her old server before it was deleted as well as asking minors to draw nsfw for her concerning "Critter Quest", a dandy's world inspired game I have developed with her.

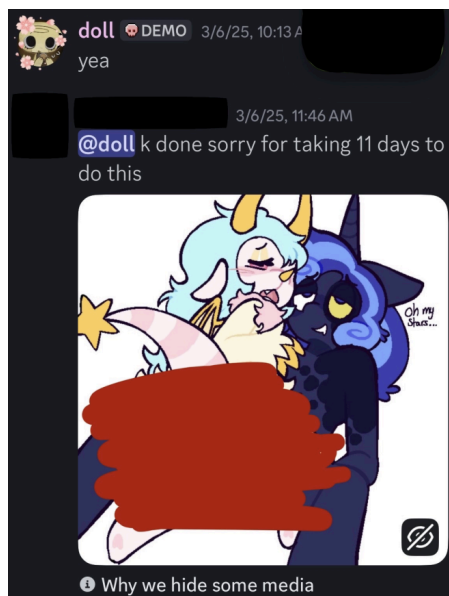

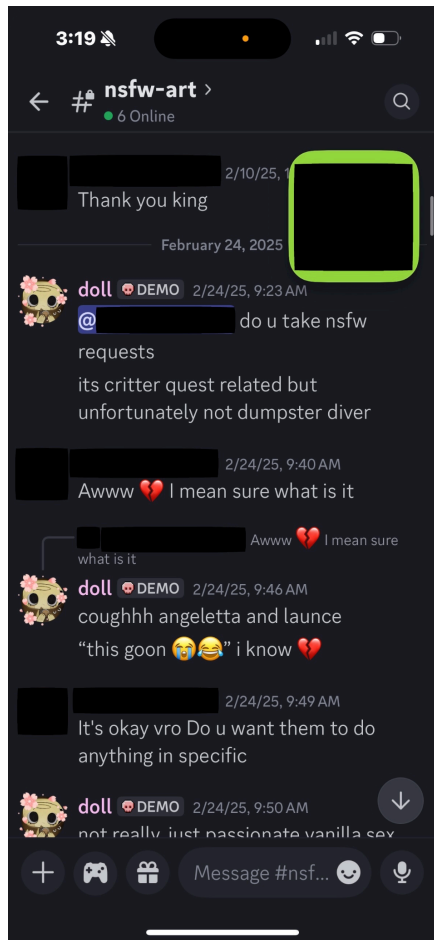

* Screenshot of her sending cropped porn in a public server full of minors.

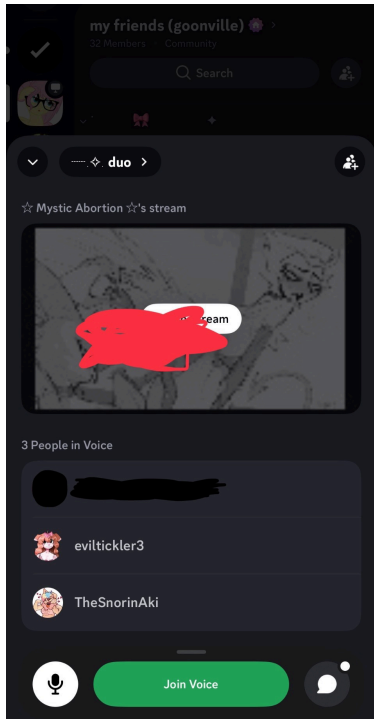

These series of screenshots are of her begging a minor (14-15) for their trust before sending the nsfw that warranted her ban.

These series of screenshots are of her asking the minor for nsfw art and her receiving it. (Minor was 16 when this was drawn, while Doll was 18.)

* I asked beforehand if it was okay to add this image of the nsfw art of her characters, Launcelot and Angeletta. Characters she based off of her yumeship between Astro and Kawamoto.

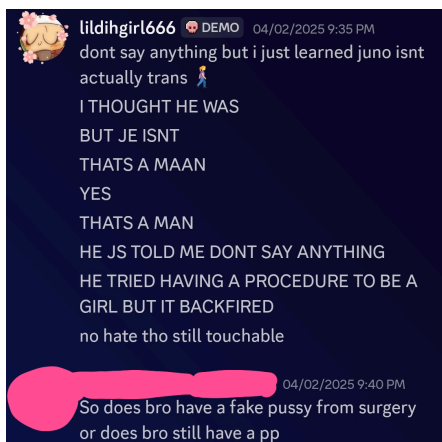

* Allowing a minor to stream nsfw of Stolas with two adults in the vc (her being one of them). It was visible through the stream thumbnail.

DOLL AND JUNO'S RELATIONSHIP

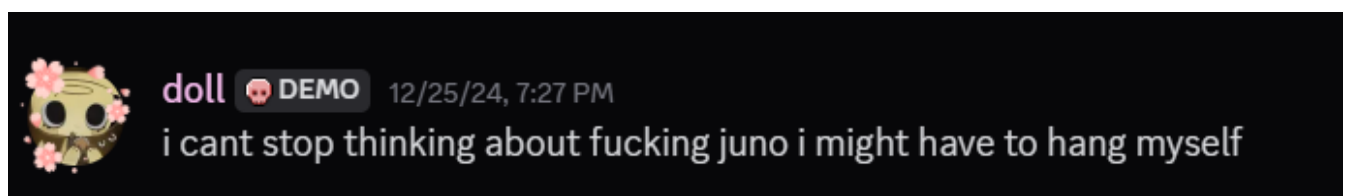

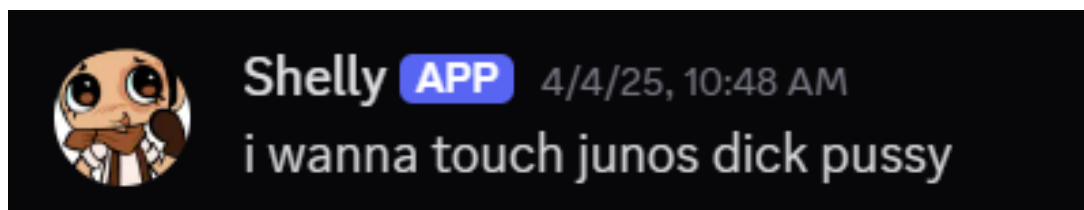

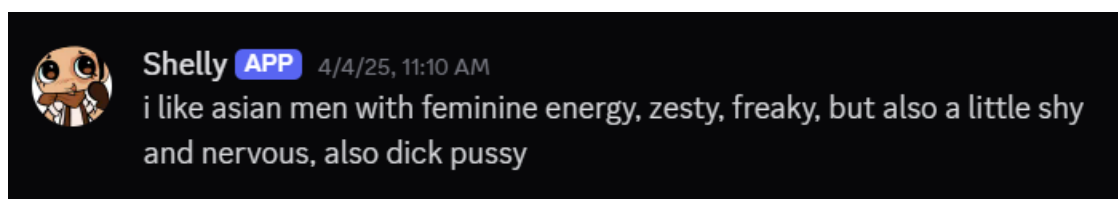

For background; JustJuno, otherwise known as LeloLittle555(lelolittle5), is an infamous mascot horror content creator, most known for his porn art. He went from Garten of Banban, to Rainbow Friends, to Dandy's world (most recognized), and currently Cookie Run Kingdom.

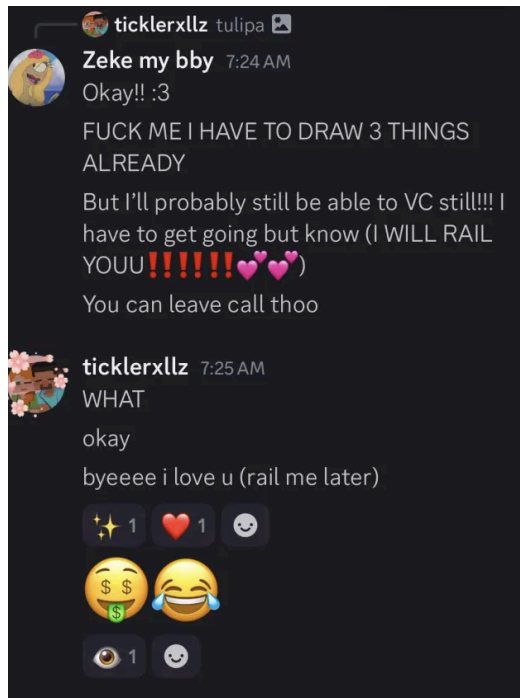

Doll and Juno began to date during December of 2024, after she turned 18. She consistently told me and my other friends uncomfortable and sensitive information about Juno without his prior knowledge (ex: his gender identity, his dick size), which happened to all be lies after recent events.

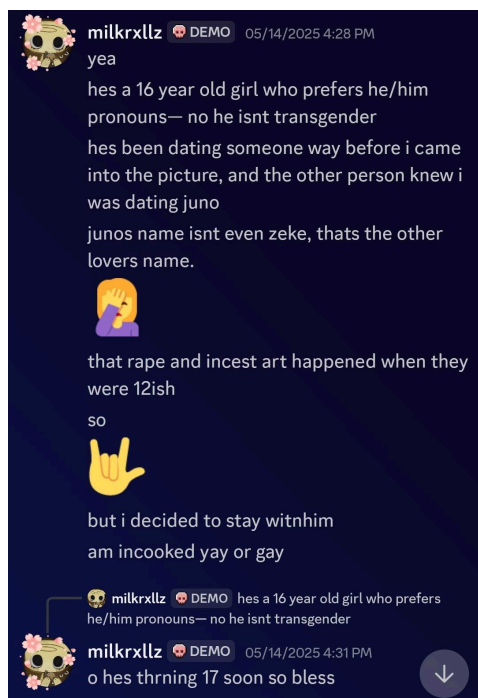

She'd also make uncomfortable sexual comments about Juno around me and my friends without asking if we were comfortable. She'd say it was a "joke" but it doesn't change the fact that she'd talk sexually to him in DMs and show us the messages.

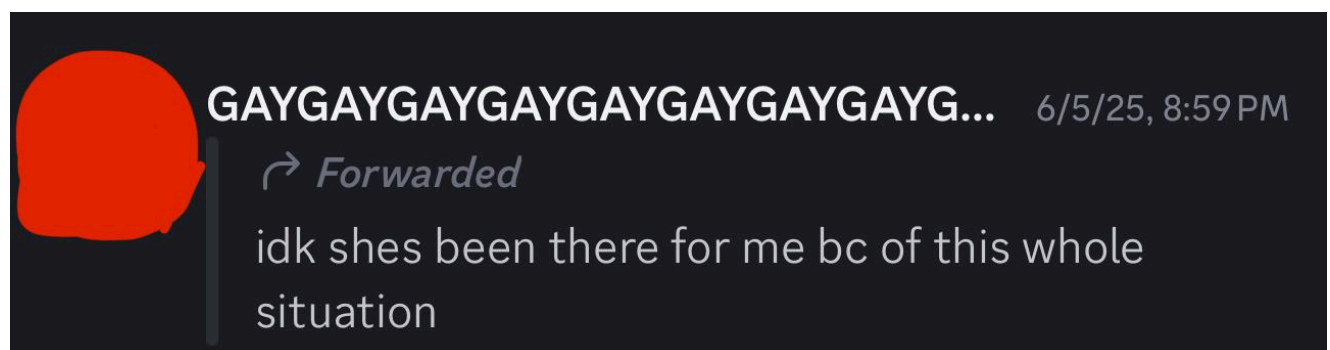

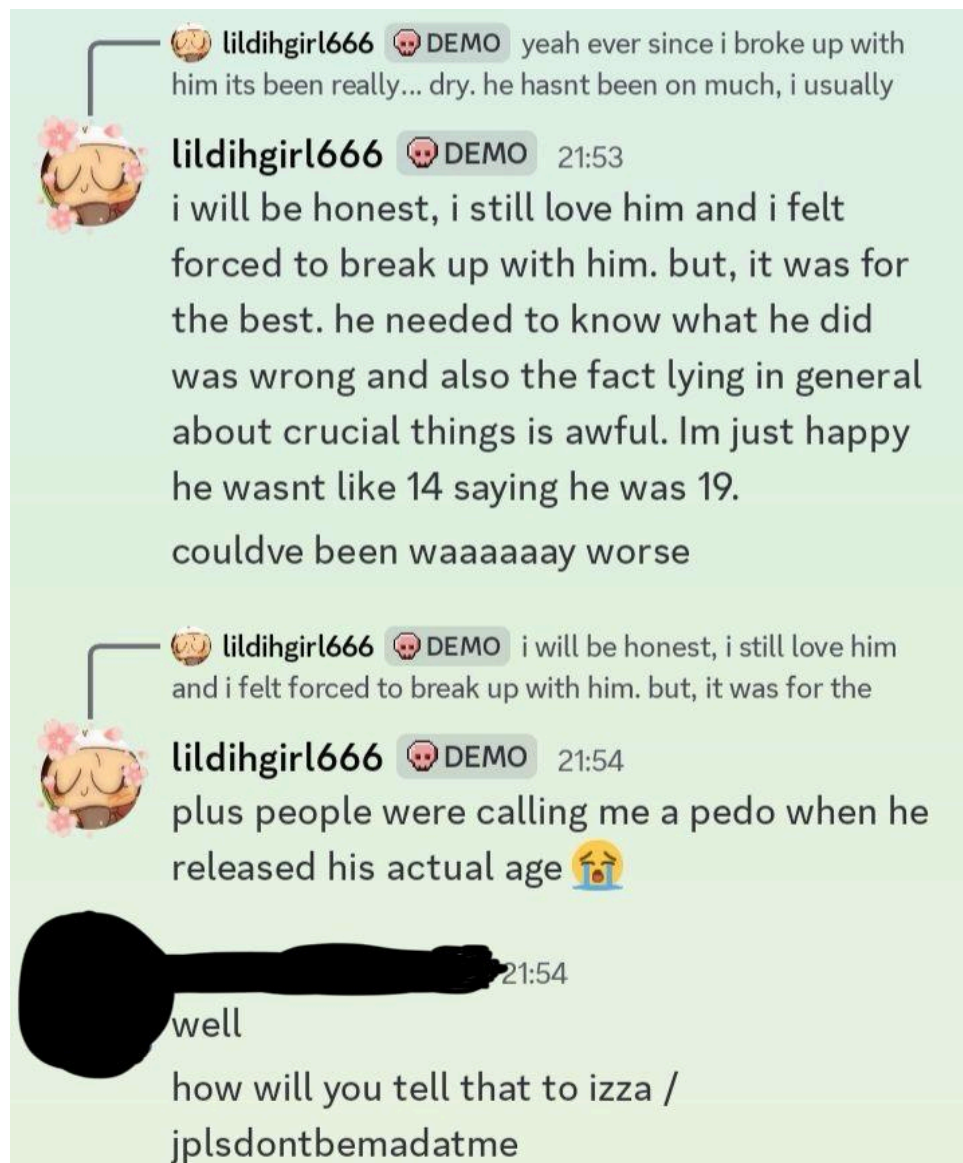

Recently, Juno has confessed to lying about his identity. He originally fed the narrative of being a 19 year old detransitioned transwoman. However, he is actually a 16 year old cis woman who went by he/him pronouns. He has also confessed to dating another named “Zeke” while also dating Doll. (This also has been confirmed to be another lie as Zeke was just his alter ego, as stated by Juno themselves.) Doll decided to stay with Zeke despite knowing he lied about his age stating that she was “blessed” that he would be turning 17 soon.

She later admitted to still being in love with Juno after breaking up with him (which she stated that she felt forced to do).

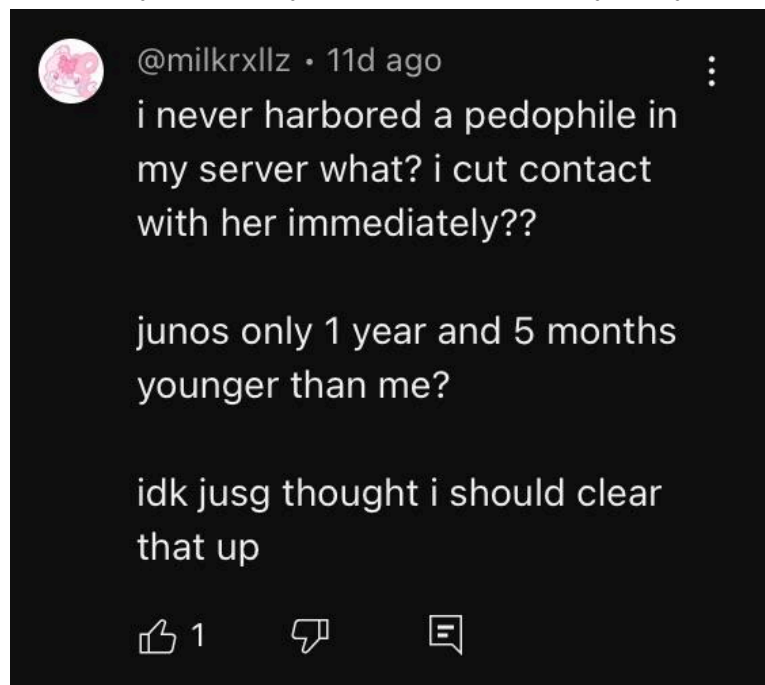

* This was forwarded by the same person who distributed her response to me.

AKI SITUATION

For a brief summary, this individual named Aki used to be one of doll's friends who, in short, had committed a lot of disgusting things in front of/towards underage users on discord such as; rape jokes, slitting jokes, pressuring minors for porn, calling minors rapists and so on. Which she has failed to stop when asked to multiple times. This happened to take place primarily in Dollete's private server for the friend group on Voice Call so we unfortunately have no physical evidence.

Around late May, I had left a comment on a reupload of Dollete's apology towards the actions that had gotten her banned from both Dandy's World on roblox and the official BlushCrunch Studio discord server.

I had mainly left the comment stating that I was thankful for the reupload still being up at the time I was beginning to write this document, stating a few allegations that I had against her that have been written down on this document. What I did not expect was for her to use her supposedly "inactive" youtube account to reply to my comment stating the following:

This comment is not only an attempt to sweep mine under the rug, but also a complete and utter lie, as she had not cut off all contact with Aki until the 14th of may. A week had not passed since she had left Aki when she first posted this comment.

Regardless though, even when I had been kicked from her old server and quit the development team for her game Dollete was still in contact with Aki. Even going as far as allowing her to be in the same server as the victims to whom she had asked for favors that an adult shouldn't be asking from minors.

Dollete's solution to the problem was to, unironically, state in the new server rules that: "If you are uncomfortable with a member here then either leave, or ignore."

doll DEMO 05/01/2025 2:13 AM

@everyone small update: there will be no nsfw channels from now on, do not request one. DO NOT invite friends into here without telling me— and if i dont know them at all. no shittalking. be honest and communicate.

i will be readding channels that were for some reason not added.

ozzie isnt allowed to be in my server ever again.

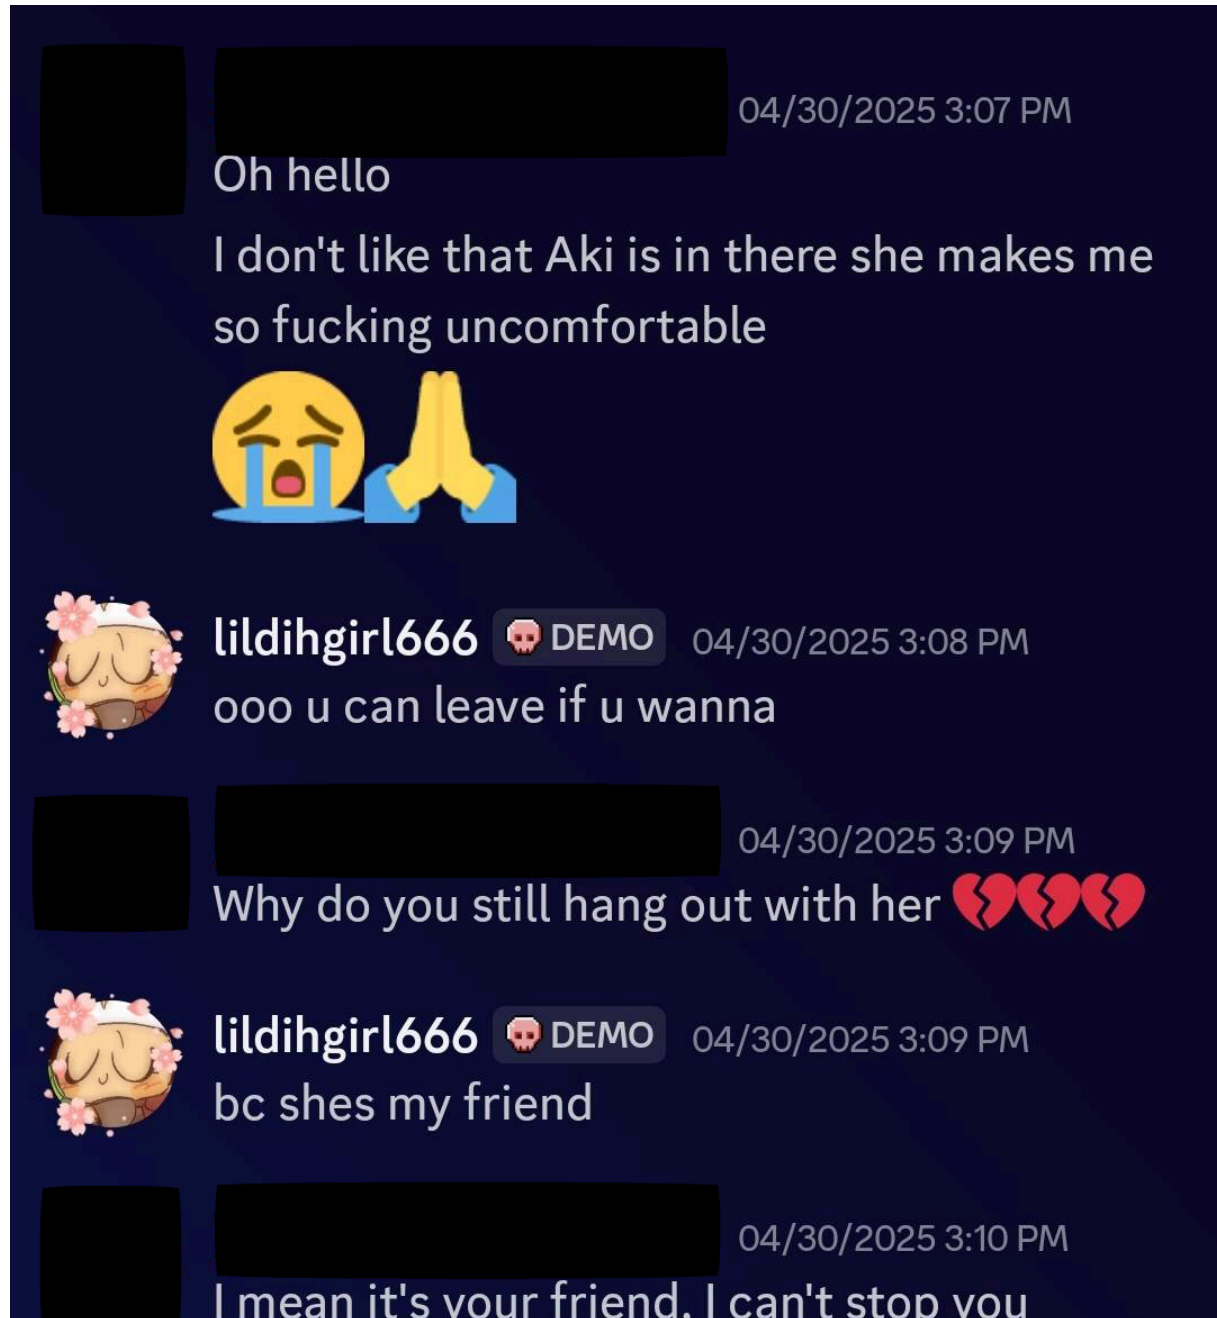

do not reinvite people that were in the old server without my permission.

i will be open and honest on how i feel towards everyone.

the rukes channel will not be used as a joke, instead they will be used as a genuine thing.

if you are uncomfortable with a member here then either leave, or ignore.

Not only was she purposefully harboring someone who she was aware of having a history of making minors uncomfortable, but she had also stated to one of the victims in a private dm that quote: "Ooo u can leave if u wanna" In response to that person expressing their discomfort with that user still being allowed to roam in her server.

She had also completely disregarded other victims whenever they directly expressed discomfort over her decision to allow Aki on the server. On the 5th of may, when she was approached by the same victim on the screenshot from april 30th, she had this to say in response to their distress:

It always leads back to her. This is why I'm so confused on why she's still around

My list

So!!!! This may ts pmo but Aki is a truly bad influence in your life.

She gaslights you a lot and you know she is, she tries to make you question your own sanity.

She amplifies your paranoia and egging you on until you eventually do something, hence why you told [REDACTED] about what happened and the other times you made decisions.

She is very weird around minors. She asked [REDACTED] to draw soft core nsfw when asking to draw him in a towel, not to mention pressuring me to send her porn. She made every conversation so sexual that it's uncomfortable.

She also just doesn't listen, which you agreed with. When we tell her to stop she doesn't.

lildihgirl666  DEMO 05/01/2025 6:40 PM

wait whens ur bday

this is urgent

The reason why she had asked this user for their birthday was because she was actively trying to look for an excuse to diminish the fact that she allowed such a disgusting person back into her new server through the victim's age.

Infact, I had received confirmation from her ex friend that she had them make the math for the victims birthday in order to excuse Aki's behavior.

OHHH YEA SHE MADE ME DO THE MATH OF YOUR BIRTHDAY
YES
Yea to justify the "age gap"

Aki had been a part of the server ever since it's creation, up until now in May when she confirmed that she had parted ways and finally cut ties.

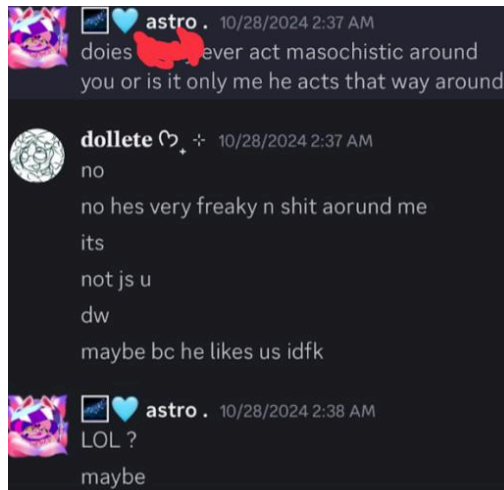

(Note: I have been made aware of the fact that she is apparently still in contact with Aki, but mainly just to finish a commission agreement they both made and to tell her about this document. From what I know, they are still talking till this day)

DISGUSTING ACTS WITH MINORS

Doll had two instances where she'd do disgusting acts with a minor.

The first instance is with a 14 year old. When she was with her ex-partner Nova, whom she engaged in sexual conversations about him with them. She was 17 turning 18 while he was freshly 14.

Later on in their relationship, Nova created softcore porn containing self harm and minor gore with Nova and the minor's Astro kinsonas. Upon seeing it, she stated that it was "hot".

After the two broke up, she created a doc where she stated that she didn't know his actual age (he admitted to lying about his age) while Nova was fully aware. However, that was a lie. On October 1st, the minor confessed to being 14 and she came to me about it. Meanwhile, the Nova situation happened during the 28th of October.

#1 Two Time fan  SWAG 10/1/24, 2:49 PM

OH MY GOD NOT AGAIN.

The second instance is with a 16, now 17, year old. She would consistently tell them disgusting sexual facts about herself such as her getting aroused when she cuts herself, how she masturbates everyday, how she has a somnophilia playlist, and so on.

In continuation, she masturbated on call with them while deafened. This minor has trauma with their groomer masturbating on call, she knew about that and did it anyway. When confronted, she defended herself saying she's not "as bad" as their groomer, that she didn't like that she was implied to be a pedophile/groomer, and that what she did was not grooming despite that not being the glaring issue.

- * This is the message she thought that they accusing her of being a pedophile/groomer
- * She went to others about the paragraph they sent containing their discomforts and frustrations with her. She disregarded their message and went immediately on defense and sought support that what she committed wasn't as bad instead of recognizing her faults.
- * She consistently used the Romeo and Juliet laws to defend herself when she engages in sexual acts with minors.

Once they both had a falling out, she blamed her disgusting acts and ideations on the minor, stating that they fed the material to her when she asked them for it.

MISTREATMENT IN THE WORKSPACE

Working under Dollete was treacherous. Her lack of contribution, high expectations, and overall incompetence was a total nightmare to bear with. She always prioritized drawing instead of hiring coders and helping out with writing, of which we had requested her to help out with multiple times but she ignored us. Not like she could've helped out anyways, since she lacks skill in coming up with ideas, character writing, and overall storytelling. She fully relied on our work while parading them around as if they were her work. Dollete showed a clear bias with some workers as well.

Account #1: I've been on her team since late October of last year. I started as a skin concept artist before I grew to become a main art contributor for critters, moldeds, trinkets, and items. I was originally fine with it until she gradually became more insufferable to work with. She began to act as if I never did anything for Critter Quest development because I tended to trail and slack off instead of working. However, during my time on the team, I made various critters, molded concept designs that she made me finalize, item concept ideas, trinket concepts/designs, and skins. I even assisted in brainstorming and finalizing ability ideas, drew introduction card poses (which she traced over), and wrote lore. During that time, she refused to fulfill any requests. Instead, she played games and blamed us for no progress being made. She dragged our name in the mud multiple times in public and private VCs but rarely came to us for personal issues. Whenever we gave criticism which she asked for, she would get upset with us and rarely took our advice. Several times, she took our characters that we created and greatly altered their designs without our prior knowledge or asking if it's okay. When confronted, she'd get pissed and rant about us to her IRL ex-friend/co-owner who stated that she had rolled her eyes and told her friend to write an apology for her, refused to respond to my messages because I was frustrated, and blamed us for her poor communication skills. As I continued to talk to her, I felt as if she only kept our friendship so I would work on the game, admitting to a friend of mine that she "needed" to be friends with me so I won't leave the dev team. Continually, I felt as if our relationship was never genuine considering how quickly she would turn against me or consult me for validation. It felt like she never really cared about me and that she only cared about what I did for her and how I made her feel. Some of my work is linked here.

Account #2: Hello, I'm pretty sure you can guess who I am but I used to be the co-owner of Critter Quest. I have been working on the team ever since the first three main critters were first created. I made the first two non main critters, Nibbles and Bambi. I have also created 11 other critters, wrote the lore, and made a handful of skins, all of which have been pulled from the game. I remember when the first employees were first added to the work server. Doll has treated past employees as if they were expendable, used them for venting purposes and would involve her personal feelings in work when I have told her not to multiple times. As the person above me has said, she would get very defensive whenever we would give her consecutive criticism for her work. She would ask for our opinion and get upset with us, saying that she felt like she was getting "jumped" by us. I remember a time when me and my fellow employees/

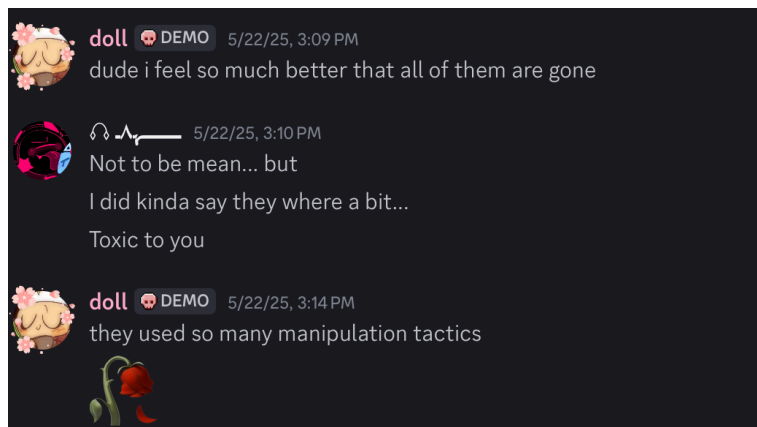

workers would frequently call in the work server, working for Critter Quest and then occasionally take a break to play roblox. She would get on us for playing Forsaken too much, she would especially do this to one certain employee. She would frequently complain to me about how our workers were acting. She used to repeat the phrase, "They were never supposed to be my friends" everytime she had an issue with them, even though she could've unfriended them a long time ago. Back then, I semi-agreed with her, but looking back now, I can see that she was being hypocritical once again. She would often slack on the work we would ask her to do. (i.e. Not hiring an extra coder that I, especially, asked her to do numerous times.) Not to mention her just not giving credits and tracing over our work sometimes. I get that it's a concept that you are refining but it is just common knowledge to credit your workers for the job that THEY did, not you. She has BLATANT favoritism in the workplace, favoring employees that would suck up to her, not give much criticism, and just overall being extra friendly to her. I believe that the reason she was so glad when we all left the team was because we would stand up to her. She liked being our friend, she just hated that we didn't completely suck up to her at all times. I hated that I felt that I had to hold the team together near the end of our friendship with Doll. I felt that it was my responsibility as the co-owner to make sure everyone was on good terms with each other. I felt pressured because I was both one of the bosses of the crew and an employee of Dollete. But along with being their boss and an employee, I was also their friend. It should not be my responsibility to ease tensions between Dollete and the other workers, as most of it was personal issues between each other. She is not qualified to lead, create and produce for Critter Quest.

Account #3: I was the music producer on the team and I wasn't asked for much but I was pressured into working more than I could, especially since music is hard to make. Our friendship was never healthy and the trauma bond we made is the reason why it crumbled.

MISCELLANEOUS

This section is dedicated to things Dollete has done that do not fit in any other category stated above.

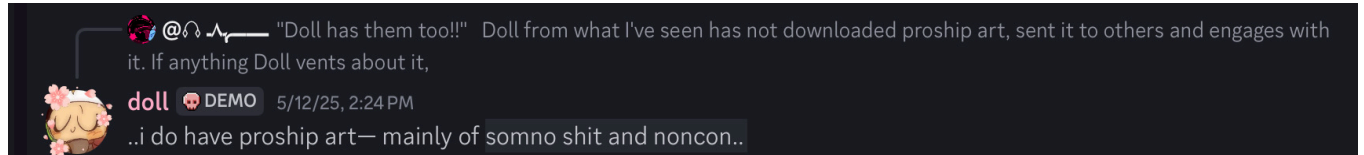

: She called us manipulative and toxic for being tired of her poor treatment.

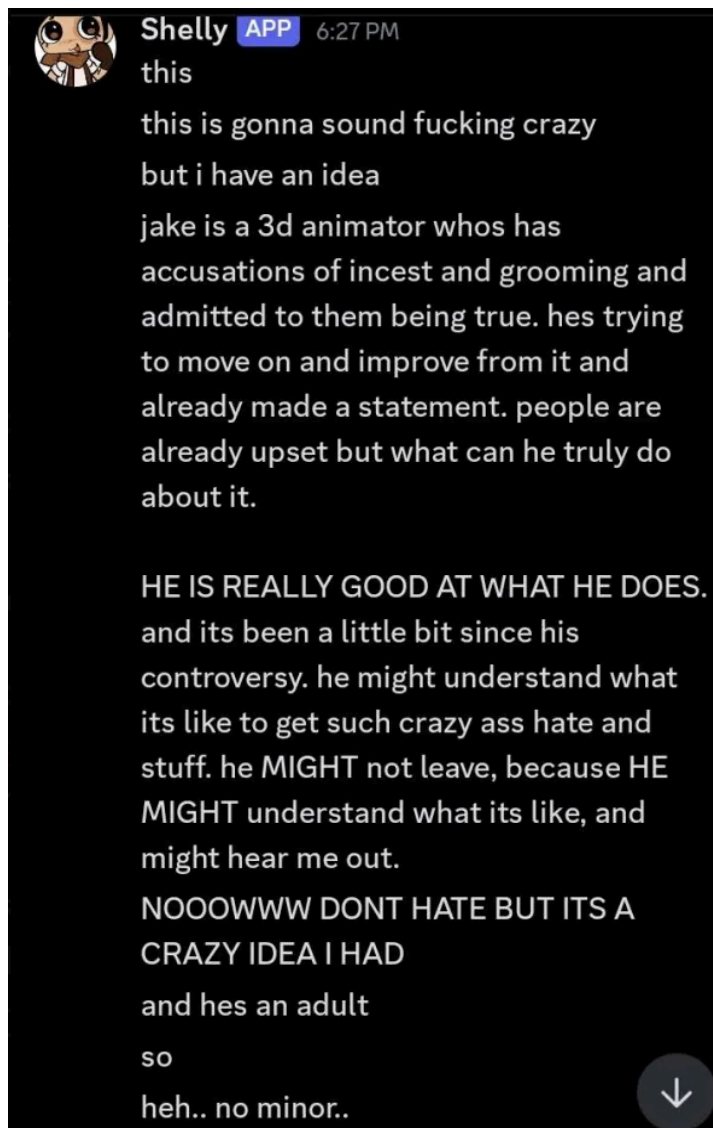

: A minor admitted to her to having severe incestuous trauma and forming a minor incest kink (note: they never indulged in that kink). Once they had a falling out, she allowed others to erase a minor's incestuous trauma and told half-truths about their situation. She admitted that she threw them under the bus to find reasons to fuel hatred towards them because she was upset.

: She admitted to saving non-con/somnophilia proship art.

: Said that hiring Jake, an admitted pedophile in the dandys world fandom, will be a last resort. She has a 15 year old on the team. This was stated June 6, 2025.

* Note that he has admitted to never attempting to improve.

FINAL NOTES AND CONCLUSION

Final conclusion, I believe Doll should not be on the internet with such a large fan base since it's clearly not fit for her poor mental health and heinous actions.

A few notes from people both public and anonymous :

"I'm honestly very disgusted with her actions with such a large fan base full of kids. I don't believe she is a pedophile but what she has done is very pedophilic and it sickens me that she doesn't believe that what she did was grooming. I believe she should get off the internet indefinitely, pull herself out of her own head, and tell the truth so she can actually get better. If she cannot do that, then I can not in my right mind muster any hope for her in the near future. She hurt me, my friends, and countless other people and she should not be given the rights she has now. To the people defending her at this moment, I have to ask you this. Do you truly believe becoming a yes man to a predator will help them get better? She's been like this for the multiple months me and others have known her due to her being surrounded by yes men and overwhelming support that she does not deserve. She hasn't made any progress since the first time she's been called out. It's sickening that she even has any sort of support for being such a terrible friend and horrible boss. Do I wish the worst for her? Partially, I only want her to suffer her consequences and realize that not everything can be fixed with a half-assed apology wrapped in a pretty bow. None of us will forgive you for what you did, none of us will spare you any more chances since we gave you plenty, none of us will feel sympathy for the shell you are now and you have to accept that full force. I will also like to make a little side note to Izza. The fact you said that sending porn to a freshly 14 year old as a 17 year old turning 18 isn't predatory or pedophilic is absolutely disgusting and I hope you truly don't mean that. I hope you're only saying this because you want to suck up to your girlfriend and make her feel better, which is not only incredibly unhealthy but damaging as well. I understand you want her to be happy but you cannot defend everything your partner does. She has committed acts that can and HAS scarred a person for life. You knowing that and condoning her every action (such as inviting a known pedophile to a server with a minor in it) says a lot about you and how you do not care for the safety of others, especially minors. You are no better than Doll herself. In conclusion, Dollete should get off the internet and never come back." - Shino

"I honestly wish our friendship was better, she was fun to be around and genuinely someone I saw a future with but each and every time she'd mess up, my view would get muddled and I started to dislike her. I never realized how much shit she actually did until I stopped talking to her. Her behavior is quite creepy and she shouldn't be around people, especially minors, for a while. I'm not saying she's a predator or a pedophile but her actions speak louder than anything she could say. I do have a fingernail of hope for her, but barely. I hope she gets better and actually learns from this." - Glisten

"Honestly, I really believed she could change. I looked up to her so much and now I'm just left with disappointment and a bitter resentment. I know that people can't grow and change under a short amount of time, but I genuinely saw no effort from her. Whenever I'd calmly talk to her about a situation and what she could do to improve from it, it would just go through one ear and out the other. I risked my friendships by sticking by her side, because I genuinely thought that it was the right thing to do. During the group split, I was fully on Doll's side, but after I slowly reconnected with some friends with that group, it put the pieces together. I saw the other side that Doll hid from me, she fed me half truths to keep me on her side. I don't know, I just feel like an idiot for putting my complete trust in her, especially in hindsight. I feel some guilt for unfriending her after I reunited with my friends, but I just wasn't happy being friends with her anymore. From what I've seen from the past year I've been friends with her, her attitude has gotten worse. And it was really disappointing to see her value yes men rather than genuine friends that kept her in check. I don't really have much to say other than I have zero hope and belief that she will truly want to change this time, as she has been confronted before and has either totally ignored it, or downplayed her terrible actions. I think it's ridiculous that she only wants to change AFTER she lost her friend/support group from mistreating them. We gave her multiple chances to stop her terrible behaviors. She needs to get off of the internet, whether it's for a long time, or forever, she needs to log off. I think she should have a genuine conversation with her mother, so that they can plan out the future and how Dollete is actually going to grow this time. If she ever does come back, I do not want her contacting me." -Anonymous
