

The New York Aquarium: Sharks After Dark Overnight

How it works!

PSP Group Night at the NY Aquarium

November 22nd - 23rd

RSVP HERE

We are going to sleep over at the New York Aquarium!

Once we get to the aquarium entrance, we will check in with the aquarium staff in the lobby. Other kids will also be checking in with their grown-ups!

After checking in we will bring our things with us to Ocean Wonders: Sharks! It might be dark outside, so I will stay with my grown-up.

I can explore the whole building and figure out where I want to sleep! We will be sleeping on the floor in sleeping bags, or I can bring a camping mattress.

Parts of the building might be dark or loud. I can tell my grown-up if I need to find a quieter space.

Once everyone has arrived, the aquarium staff will introduce themselves and tell us the schedule for the night. I can ask them any questions I have.

I will be in a group with my grownup while we do activities before bedtime. The aquarium staff will bring my group behind the scenes to where they take care of animals!

There might be loud sounds or strong smells. If I am scared or do not want to go, I can ask for headphones or go somewhere else.

We will meet animals I can touch if I want to! The aquarium staff will show me how to touch safely.

When it is time to go to bed, I can change out of my clothes and brush my teeth here, just like at home.

When it is time for bed, some of the lights will turn off. Some of the exhibits will stay lit, so I can move somewhere else if it is too bright.

In the morning, I will pack up all my things and leave them in this room while I have breakfast. There will be breakfast for us in the café nearby!

When it is time to leave, my grown-up and I will take all our things out of the aquarium. I might come back another time to see the animals again!
