

Shitcoins

What is a Shitcoin?

- A Shitcoin can be described as a cryptocurrency with little to no value, serves no specific purpose, easily creatable and really unsafe. Typically, Shitcoins come in the form of memes or randomised names, that are made up for the purpose of catching people's attention to invest into them. Essentially there are also good tokens that come in the form of memes, for example Wall Street Memes (WSM), which are offering room for growth and further development, compared to regular Shitcoins.
- Whenever dealing with a Shitcoin you should be aware of the risks in not just investing in them, but possible news psyops and evade high liquidation and volatility impacts, which could destroy your portfolio.

Some examples of Shitcoins are:

- Dogecoin (DGE)
- Shiba Inu (SHIB)
- Floki Inu (FLOKI)
- ApeCoin (APE)
- LuckyBlock (LBLOCK)
