Ms. Chou

Hello, We are Portable Pocket (that's what esha put on the form)

Our idea consists of a magnetic mechanism used to make attachable and detachable reusable pockets. Our current team is

Hi Ms. Chou,

Hope you are doing well! My team, Tara Pappu, Kylie Nunemacher, Maya Patel, and I, came with the product portable pockets. This is a product we designed to help women with the daily struggle of not having access to pockets on their clothing. We would like to connect with Ms. Akansha Bhardwaj. She mentions expertise in entrepreneurship and product market fit which we believe could be beneficial for our project. With her guidance we hope to understand what additions should be made to our product and what marketing we should do with this product. I have attached our solution evaluation under here for better understanding of our solution.
