Phoenix Ignited™ Disclaimer & Spiritual Integrity Statement

DISCLAIMER

Phoenix Ignited™ and all affiliated materials—including our quiz systems, challenges, courses, mentorships, email content, and branding frameworks—are intended for educational and informational purposes only. Nothing shared is meant to substitute for medical, legal, psychological, or financial advice. Please consult with licensed professionals for your unique situation.

We are not doctors, lawyers, therapists, or certified financial planners. We share tools and teachings rooted in Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM), frequency energetics, archetypal branding, and soul-aligned business strategy. Your outcomes are based on your personal effort, alignment, energy, and action. We do not guarantee specific results, income, or healing.

Spiritual Inclusivity + Christ-Centered Foundation

This space welcomes seekers from all walks of life and honors wisdom across spiritual traditions. At times, we may reference the teachings of Jesus Christ, biblical principles, or Christian values, as well as acknowledge truth found across other sacred lineages and philosophies.

However, Phoenix Ignited™ is not affiliated with any one religion or denomination, nor does it promote a religious agenda. Our focus is personal and spiritual wholeness, business alignment, and energetic leadership.

We honor God as the source of creation, unconditional love, and truth. We also believe that spiritual wisdom can be universally resonant when filtered through discernment and grace.

About the Five Elements

Our Elemental Archetypes are based on the Five Elements of Traditional Chinese Medicine: Water, Wood, Fire, Earth, and Metal. These teachings are energetic in nature and rooted in holistic, seasonal, and organ-based rhythms from thousands of years of East Asian healing wisdom. They are not based in Wiccan or pagan practices, nor do we promote witchcraft or occult teachings.

While we respect the paths others walk, Phoenix Ignited™ is built around universal energetics, quantum resonance, and sacred entrepreneurship that honors God as Source and Truth.

Affiliate + Financial Disclosure

We may recommend affiliate products (including but not limited to Healy™, Enagic™, or travel-related platforms) and receive commissions from these referrals. We only share tools and systems we genuinely use, trust, and believe may serve you. You are under no obligation to purchase through our links.

By using our site and engaging with our content or offers, you agree to take full responsibility for your choices, energy, and actions. You are always encouraged to discern, pray, and follow your own inner truth.

Faith & Frequency (Suggested for About Page)

At Phoenix Ignited™, I believe God is the ultimate Source of all true healing, creativity, and purpose. While I reference teachings from Jesus Christ and draw on biblical wisdom, this space welcomes all who seek truth, wholeness, and alignment—no matter your background.

I also honor the beauty woven into other ancient traditions—like the Five Elements of Traditional Chinese Medicine—not as religion, but as rhythm, resonance, and energetic intelligence designed by a loving Creator.

This work is not Wiccan or occult. It is a bridge between Spirit and strategy, rooted in love, clarity, and personal sovereignty.

Take what resonates. Leave what doesn't. Follow your own sacred rhythm.
