

Introduction Discussion Post

For this introduction, you must respond to the person directly before you with one common element that you two share. Thus, if you were to reply after my introduction, you would have to introduce yourself by connecting yourself to my background, either academically or personally.

Be aware: Mentioning you like psychology will not suffice as a link between one posting to another!