Golden Valley Historical Society has openings on its board

GOLDEN VALLEY, MN. Currently celebrating its 50th year, the Golden Valley Historical Society (GVHS) has openings on its board of directors. It's a great way to volunteer and participate in preserving and sharing past, present, and future Golden Valley history.

The board guides policy on the operations of GVHS's 1882 Historic Church and the Golden Valley History Museum which opened in 2018, both located at 6731 Golden Valley Road. GVHS acquires and maintains a collection of artifacts, documents, and photographs. It also presents special events as well as history programs for the public in its Historic Church.

Meetings are on the second Wednesday of the month, 6:30 pm, in the Historic Church. To learn more or express an interest, contact Emily Dietle at gvhistoricalsociety@gmail.com

About the Golden Valley Historical Society. Now in its 50th year, the Golden Valley Historical Society (GVHS) was organized in 1974 and is dedicated to the preservation and celebration of Golden Valley history. Its mission is to find, preserve, and disseminate historical knowledge about the City of Golden Valley. In 1997, GVHS acquired the city's oldest church building as a permanent home. The original chapel was constructed in 1882 and is available for weddings, vow renewals, memorial services, and a variety of presentations. GVHS opened the Golden Valley History Museum in 2018. In 2020, the museum received an Award of Excellence from the American Association of State and Local History for its "Golden Valley: No Place Like Home" exhibit. Both the Historic Church and Museum are operated by GVHS. The Society also collects and preserves oral histories, photographs, three-dimensional objects, and archives that tell the story of Golden Valley's history.
