Step 3: Plot your movie. Due Saturday August 1st

You don't need to write the script yet, but you should have all of your main plot points down.

Remember: Plot Point 1 should be the one that starts the main conflict.

Remember: There should be a crisis (something really bad that happens to the main character) at the end of the second act.

Consider: Having a plot twist at the mid-point to spice things up.

Step 3: Plot your movie. Due Saturday August 1st

You don't need to write the script yet, but you should have all of your main plot points down.

Remember: Plot Point 1 should be the one that starts the main conflict.

Remember: There should be a crisis (something really bad that happens to the main character) at the end of the second act.

Consider: Having a plot twist at the mid-point to spice things up.

Step 3: Plot your movie. Due Saturday August 1st

You don't need to write the script yet, but you should have all of your main plot points down.

Remember: Plot Point 1 should be the one that starts the main conflict.

Remember: There should be a crisis (something really bad that happens to the main character) at the end of the second act.

Consider: Having a plot twist at the mid-point to spice things up.

Step 3: Plot your movie. Due Saturday August 1st

You don't need to write the script yet, but you should have all of your main plot points down.

Remember: Plot Point 1 should be the one that starts the main conflict.

Remember: There should be a crisis (something really bad that happens to the main character) at the end of the second act.

Consider: Having a plot twist at the mid-point to spice things up.

Step 3: Plot your movie. Due Saturday August 1st

You don't need to write the script yet, but you should have all of your main plot points down.

Remember: Plot Point 1 should be the one that starts the main conflict.

Remember: There should be a crisis (something really bad that happens to the main character) at the end of the second act.

Consider: Having a plot twist at the mid-point to spice things up.