Introduction

Watch the Walking dance from Fin Amour.

Warm-Up

Using a large open space, students will explore walking forward traveling in any direction. Students may change the direction of the walk so they don't collide with another student. Students may walk using their own tempo (fast, medium or slow).

Investigate

Students will repeat walking, but this time find ways to travel sideways, then backwards and then walking and turning. Next add, walking on different levels, but keep walking forward, backwards, sideways or turning, but add high, medium and low levels. Then add some tempo changes, such as fast, medium or slow.

Create

Students will work with a partner. Have them create their own walking dance, using directions, levels and different speeds.

Reflect

Students will show the creations to one another and the audience will tell them what directions, levels and speeds they observed during the performance.

Extension to the Lesson

Add different actions to the created patterns, for example, instead of walking try skipping or hopping, etc.
