

Viking Waters

Sea Perch 03/16/2024

Welcome to Viking waters, we were hard at work sailing our glamorous ROVs (Remote Operating Vehicle) to victory. Over the entire competition, we had fun, faced challenges, and many more events or mishaps. We perched along the lines to watch the ROVs glide like dolphins through the water. Each of the ROVs performed well, navigating through the obstacle course easily and moving pipes with ease. Each ROV was the same but controlled by another team, each team set out to do the best they could and we did more than good, we did excellent. Everyone that morning was energetic and ready to win this battle, each ROV was simple but moved perfectly, and our buoyancy was perfect. In fact, one ROV was too good (we had to add some more floaties). In each competition we entered, we got first place after first place, the brave Vikings once again came out on top with this massive victory that led us to the international leagues. We the Vikings control the water, after all, it is our natural habitat. GO VIKINGS!
