

MODULE OVERVIEW

SKILL: APPLY POLITICAL CONCEPTS/PROCESSES;
SOURCE ANALYSIS, EVALUATIONS

CONTENT: Political and Civic Participation

DAY
1

LESSON QUESTION: WHAT ARE THE SIGNS OF A TOTALITARIAN STATE?

CLASS ACTIVITY: Source Analysis

While working collaboratively, students will define "totalitarian government" and learn about its core characteristics. Students will work individually and in teams to analyze videos to identify the different ways totalitarian leaders manipulate a society to gain control through the story of a fictional state.

CHECK FOR UNDERSTANDING: Assessing a Totalitarian State

Students will use their understanding of the characteristics of a totalitarian leader to assess and rank the characteristics that pose the greatest threat to society.

2

LESSON QUESTION: TO WHAT EXTENT IS NORTH KOREA A TOTALITARIAN STATE?

CLASS ACTIVITY: Potential Totalitarianism in North Korea & its Impact on Citizens

Working individually and in teams, students will use their expanded understanding of totalitarianism to apply it to the context of North Korea, examining the extent to which the Kim family uses appeals to Extreme Nationalism, National Emergencies and Scapegoating, Government Control of Media and Technology, Propaganda and Cult of Personality, Bribery and Kickbacks, and Force and Violence to control North Korea. Through a variety of sources, students will investigate and assess North Korean totalitarianism. Students will also watch North Korean defector videos as another way to assess totalitarianism in North Korea.

CHECK FOR UNDERSTANDING: Exit Ticket

Students will use the information from primary sources and videos of defectors from North Korea to assess totalitarianism in North Korea and its impact on the individuals who live there. Hearing the voices and stories of defectors provides a unique opportunity to reflect on the state and how lives have been affected by the government.

ASSESSMENT: WHAT IS AN EFFECTIVE POLICY TO SHAPE US-NORTH KOREAN RELATIONS?

In light of their analysis of North Korea as a totalitarian state, students will craft a policy recommendation to the President of the United States that will guide US-North Korean relations.

Lesson Question: TO WHAT EXTENT IS NORTH KOREA A TOTALITARIAN STATE?

CURRICULUM STANDARDS

Texas - Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills High School Government Course

13 Citizenship - The student understands the difference between personal and civic responsibilities. The student is expected to:

- (A) describe scenarios where good citizenship may require the subordination of personal desire for the sake of the public good;
- (B) explain the responsibilities, duties, and obligations of citizenship such as being well informed about civic affairs, serving in the military, voting, serving on a jury, observing the laws, paying taxes, and serving the public good.

New York: New York State Social Studies K-12 Framework

12.G4 POLITICAL AND CIVIC PARTICIPATION: There are numerous avenues for engagement in the political process, from exercising the power of the vote, to affiliating with political parties, to engaging in other forms of civic participation. Citizens leverage both electoral and non-electoral means to participate in the political process.

12.G4c In addition to voting, there are many ways in which citizens can participate in the electoral process. These include joining a political organization, donating money, and doing volunteer work on a political campaign.

12.G4e Citizens participate in civic life through volunteerism and advocacy, including efforts such as contacting elected officials, signing/organizing petitions, protesting, canvassing, and participating in/organizing boycotts.

California: History Social Science Content Standards

12.3 Students evaluate and take and defend positions on what the fundamental values and principles of civil society are (i.e., the autonomous sphere of voluntary personal, social, and economic relations that are not part of government), their interdependence, and the meaning and importance of those values and principles for a free society.

1. Explain how civil society provides opportunities for individuals to associate for social, cultural, religious, economic, and political purposes.
2. Explain how civil society makes it possible for people, individually or in association with others, to bring their influence to bear on government in ways other than voting and elections.

Civics Skills: APPLY POLITICAL CONCEPTS AND PROCESSES; SOURCE ANALYSIS

LESSON OVERVIEW

Working individually and in teams, students will use their understanding of totalitarianism to the context of North Korea, examining how the Kim family potentially uses appeals to Extreme Nationalism, National Emergencies and Scapegoating, Government Control of Media and Technology, Propaganda and Cult of Personality, Bribery and Kickbacks, and Force and Violence. Throughout this activity, students will analyze the North Korean government and its impact on its citizenry.

SEQUENCE OF INSTRUCTION

CLASS ACTIVITY 1 of 4: WARM UP/INTRODUCTION (10 Minutes)

What are the signs of a Totalitarian State?

ACTIVITY PROCEDURE: USING THEIR PRIOR KNOWLEDGE ON THE SUBJECT

- Have students arrange desks to work in teams of four for this activity.
- As a way of drawing the students’ attention back to what they learned in yesterday’s class, have them take out the assignment they completed right before they left that’s entitled: Exit Ticket: Ranking the Warning Signs of Totalitarianism (also included at the end of this instruction here).
- Remind them that the Warning Signs of Totalitarianism are the following:
 - Appeals to Extreme Nationalism
 - Use of National Emergencies and Scapegoating
 - Government Control of Media and Technology
 - Use of Propaganda and Cult of Personality
 - Bribery and Kickbacks
 - Use of Force and Violence
- Lead a discussion for several minutes of what students believe are the most dangerous warning signs of totalitarianism in a society.

- Note: This discussion should end by the teacher mentioning, as a segue, today's class will have the students use their knowledge to analyze to what extent the government of North Korea might be totalitarian.

CLASS ACTIVITY 2 of 4:

INTRODUCING NORTH KOREA: SHORT VIDEO (10 MINUTES)

ACTIVITY PROCEDURE: EXAMINING A BRIEF HISTORY OF NORTH KOREA

- As a way of providing the class with some important background information, the students should watch the YouTube video "A Brief History of North Korea."
- After, the teacher should lead a discussion to debrief the points the students found to be interesting, then segue into the next activity, noting that the information will provide the foundation for their activities to follow.

CLASS ACTIVITY 3 of 4:

EXAMINING POSSIBLE SIGNS OF TOTALITARIANISM IN NORTH KOREA (20 Minutes)

ACTIVITY PROCEDURE: ANALYZING POSSIBLE WARNING SIGNS OF TOTALITARIANISM IN NORTH KOREA

- Distribute the handout entitled "Possible Warning Signs of Totalitarianism in North Korea."
- Working in groups, the students should complete the pages of the handout.
- After providing around 10-15 minutes for students to work, review the answer to each resource page as a group. Please note that covering these topics thoroughly could take the rest of the class period.
- Review sources 1-6 to the class (use slide deck a projector if possible), pausing to elicit conversation and discussion on each source, asking the following:
 - What warning sign does the resource show?
 - Why might this sign be of concern?
 - Does this resource reflect a Low, Medium, or High risk of totalitarianism in North Korea?
- After the students complete their examination of the eight sources, briefly recap each source, creating an interactive discussion if possible.

Teaching Tip

Some educators might prefer to hang each source on the walls of their classroom as a Gallery Walk, providing the students the opportunity to physically get up to answer the questions that relate to each. Doing so might provide some physical stretch time, which may be an appealing option to many learners.

Teaching Tip

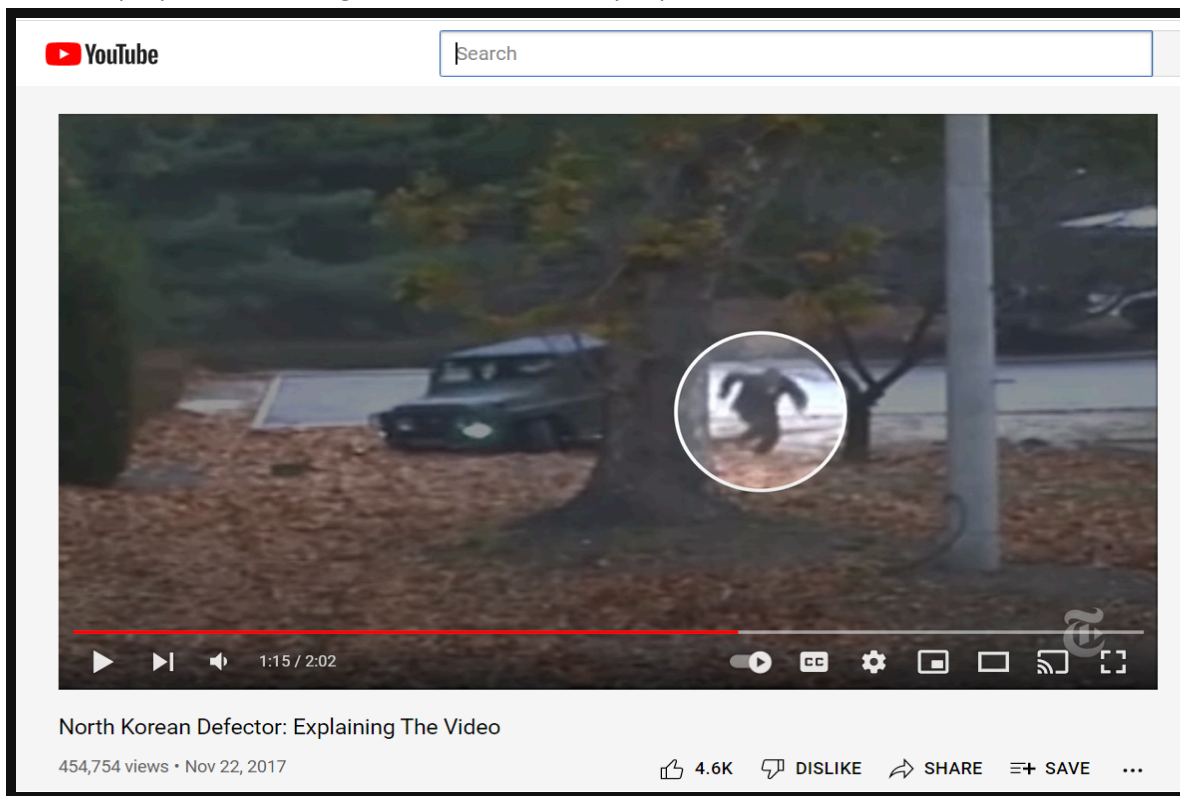

Depending on the class, students may need a quick refresher on the major tenets of Confucianism. One goal of Source 8 is to briefly have them explore how the religion's Five Relationships—specifically between ruler and subject—provides a social "power source" that may indeed position the North Korean people to actually welcome totalitarian rule.

CLASS ACTIVITY 4 of 4: Check for Understanding (5 minutes)

Examining the testimonies of defectors from North Korea

ACTIVITY PROCEDURE:

- To further contextualize the potential connections between North Korea and totalitarianism, share with the class that for homework, they will be looking at the stories of North Korean defectors.
- To capture their attention, the teacher should show this video of a defector attempting to leave North Korea in late 2017: North Korean Defector: Explaining the Video, from the New York Times.
- One purpose of showing this video is to visually explain what a defector is. See below.

- Distribute the assignment handout "Check For Understanding: Examine the Testimonies".
- End class by explaining the directions of the assignment. Students should watch two of the videos, then answer the questions, connecting it to the warning signs of totalitarianism.
- This assignment will in turn provide a natural segue to the third day of the lesson.

Source 7: The Impact of Religion and Culture

A passage from Power, Place, and State-Society Relations in Korea, by Dr. Jongwoo Han.

“To describe the various types of relations that exist, Confucius set forth the ‘Five Codes of Conduct’...In short, it is evident in Chinese classical literature that parents and the ruling elites have a status linked to that of Heaven, while the public is regarded as children. In this set of relations, the patriarchal (male-dominated) power relationship within the family automatically extends to the public domain...This Confucian hierarchy has a long history in North Korea that encouraged citizens to obey those in power. In fact, to quote the thinker Michel Foucault, these Confucian beliefs are the “concrete soil in which their state power is grounded..allowing it to function.”

Source 8: Report of the DPRK (North Korea) Association for Human Rights Studies

This excerpt is a summary of the document entitled "Report of the DPRK Association for Human Rights Studies" as published by (North) Korea Central News Agency, September 13, 2014.

Recently, distorted views were floated by anti-North Korean forces about the realities of our country, especially its human rights situation. The United States and its followers are pursuing persistent anti-North Korean human rights campaigns aimed at interfering in our internal affairs and eventually overthrowing the social system by fabricating a "human rights issue" to mislead international opinions and raise it to the United Nations. However, truth will always prevail.

In North Korea, great efforts were exerted to raise people's living and cultural standards, thus resulting in a great advance in basically meeting their needs for food, clothing, housing, education, cultural activities and health care. Taxation was abolished and systems of universal free medical care and free education have been put in place.

The 60-year long history of the DPRK is a history of self-reliance in which Korean people established and strengthened the people-centered socialist system under the wise leadership of the great President Kim Il Sung and the great leader Kim Jong Il.

The Korean People are convinced that their state and social system guarantees them genuine freedom and rights and place absolute trust in it, making devoted efforts to further consolidate and develop it under the wise leadership of the respected (leader) Kim Jong Un.
