House Cats

By:Sophie G.

House cats are interesting creatures. They can jump high, run fast, and always land on their feet. House cats eat vegetables, salmon, tuna, meat, and milk. Most owners buy their cat food at the market. There is wet food and dry.

The history of cats started 4,500 years ago in Egypt. The Egyptians worshiped these creatures as gods. These pets have been with people for thousands of years. People have used cats as hunters many years ago.The scientific way of calling these creatures is Felis catus.

Over millions of people have cats as pets. They live about 15 years. Kittens are about 3 inches long in size. Cats start off as a kitten then they are an adult cat.

House cats come in all sorts of colors, like brown, orange tan, black and many more. There are many types of cats, such as tabby cats, bob cats and many more.

Those are some facts about house cats.