

It was a beautiful weather outside so we took our bikes for a ride. It was exciting going out on the footpath this time because we always rode them on the concrete inside our gate. There is some construction building right next to our house inside the fence so we won't be able to have enough space for us to ride. I heard the cars on the road. The wheels on my bike went spinning super fast. The birds were chirping a soft tune. When I came back home we played badminton. Again I say again that there is a construction, so half our concrete is dug up so we put the poles in the mud and hung up the net from our badminton set. We got the rackets and the shuttlecocks. That was my weekend!
