ABSTRACT

The abstract contains briefly about the background, objectives, methods, research results, and conclusions of the research. The abstract contains a maximum of 250 words. Below the abstract are keywords consisting of a maximum of six words, where the first word is the most important. The editor reserves the right to edit the abstract for reasons of clarity of content.

INTRODUCTION

Authors must follow all writing rules, in terms of font, size, layout, word count, systematics, and references.

The body of the article including bibliography should be written in one column as shown in this template. Articles must be submitted in Microsoft Word, with A4 paper size, 2.54 cm top and left margins, 2.54 cm right and bottom margins, and single spacing between lines. The font used in the body of the article is (Times New Roman, Font Size 12).

The writing of punctuation marks (period, comma, colon, semicolon, parentheses, quotation marks, question marks, exclamation marks, slashes, etc.) is not preceded by a space and continued by a space, except for the use of periods or commas in decimal number markers.

The introduction mainly contains the reasons for conducting the research supported by a literature (theoretical) review. The introduction is expected to contain as many citations as possible from scientific journals (preferably from national journals and reputable international journals).

To facilitate the author, technically the author can use this template in full. The author can adjust the entire content of the writing with this template (overwritten) section by section, so that as a whole it is expected that the submitted article is in accordance with the expected guidelines. We recommend deleting as needed, to avoid errors in other parts.

RESEARCH METHOD

The research method used in solving the problem includes an analytical method. Figure captions should be part of the figure caption, not part of the figure. The methods used in the completion of the research are written in this section. In the Research Methods, small and non-main tools (already common in the lab, such as: scissors, measuring cups, pencils) do not need to be written down, but simply write down the main set of equipment only, or the main tools used for analysis and / or characterization, even need to go to type and accuracy; Write in full the location of the research, the number of respondents, how to process the results of observations or

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Tables and Figures are placed in the text group after the table or figure is referred to. Each figure should be given a Figure Caption at the bottom of the figure and numbered in numerical sequence followed by the title of the figure. Each table must be given a table caption and numbered sequentially at the top of the table followed by the table title. Figures must be guaranteed to print clearly (font size, resolution and line size must be guaranteed to print clearly). Figures and tables and diagrams/schematics should be placed in columns between groups of text or, if too large, in the center of the page. Tables should not contain vertical lines, while horizontal lines are allowed but only important ones.

An example of direct quotation is as follows:

The explanation of the quote can be written here.

The closing is a conclusion of the results of the research that has been carried out and is the answer to the problem formulation. Conclusions are aligned with the problem formulation and research objectives. In the case of more than one conclusion, it is written using numerical numbering and not using bullets. In this closing section, prospects for the development of the research results and further applications that are prospects for the next study can also be added.
