

iSo there I was...

Stuck to a rock face, clinging on by my fingers and standing on a ledge the size of a matchbox.

There was no way down as I couldn't see my feet due to the angle of the rock face.

And I was only a few meters short of the top. But I was totally STUCK.

I remember thinking, I'm 20 years old. I'm not supposed to die like this!

My arms, fingers, and feet, were beginning to cramp.

All I saw while looking down was a 30-meter-deep drop and razor-sharp rocks.

I could die. I thought

It was the first time in my life I had screamed for my life.

"HELP!"

Only minutes before I'd been walking along a beautiful sandy beach, shirt off, happy as could be.

To make it worse, there had been an easy way up to the top of the cliff.

But me being me, in my ultimate wisdom, I decided to try a more challenging route.

Not one of my smartest decisions.

And now my life had been turned upside down...I really hadn't seen it coming.

I was faced with no other option but to keep climbing UP!!

I knew there must be a way, so I started to climb even higher.

Within a few minutes, I'd managed to crawl over the ledge.

I collapse onto beautiful green grass—Safety...I had made it!

The golden nugget of wisdom I learned on this life-altering day was

No matter how hard a situation gets, even when there seems to be no way out...

...the solution is closer than you think.

There's always a way out.

You HAVE to believe and trust it's there and that it will come to you.

The same applies to training your dog:

It doesn't matter how OLD, YOUNG or UNRULY your dog is...

It doesn't matter how STUBBORN they may seem...

Your dog CAN be trained.

No matter if you've tried for years without success, there is a way.

And the best news of all—it's not nearly as hard as you think. :)

Sound promising?
