

Crisis Response Network

The GRREC Crisis Response Network will review procedures and enhance its understanding of the importance of an effective crisis response team plan. Effective communication, coordination, and a unified response are essential during a crisis response to help the school community properly deal with the event. These network meetings bring together others from across our crisis response network to enhance our collective readiness and resilience. We will review current protocols (school, district, and regional), share best practices, and identify communication or service delivery gaps. These meetings will also provide updates on recent trends and available crisis intervention resources and postvention support resources.

Whether you are new to crisis response or a seasoned responder, these meetings offer a valuable opportunity to align efforts, build relationships, and reaffirm our shared commitment to compassionate, coordinated support.
