★ welcome to Seer-Spam's center of witchcraft for Tarot readings, general spellcraft, and other esoteric miscellany! all types of the occult welcome and please no fighting. ★

i got a lot of positive feedback in the mod thread so i went ahead and made a space to continue readings and to let others do things as well.

i want this to be a place for sharing tales, asking guidance, teaching lost arts and there's no wrong way to go about it as long as you're not being an asshole.

anyway it doesn't matter if you think it's real or not, the important thing is it makes you feel like you have some sort of control over your life, plus it's fun!

i personally accept questions in-thread (or as PMs if you want to be anonymized) to do situation readings, single card draws, as well as the daily reading - but feel free to contribute in your own way, i'm always excited to see new sides of the occult and witchcraft!

oh and if you plan on using the black arts, always keep your curses clean and simple as complex rituals can easily backfire - remember to always practice safe hex!

I once started making a C-SPAM/Trump themed tarot deck but I didn't get very far. Nevertheless I am posting those here because they seem relevant:

 gimme the GOD DAMN candy

it's not very helpful to hide within demonstrably fake bullshit when the world and your life are falling apart. still, some folks are really into this 'electoralism' stuff so they must get something out of it. now if you'll excuse me, i have to get back to my dark majjycks.

Fuck off I don't believe in that made up nonsense

So true!!!

Finicums Wake

Mar 13, 2017

Can't post for 8 years!

turns out one can get into marxism around the 2008 financial crisis, read about it for more than a decade, vote and advocate for bernie, vote and advocate for third party candidates, AND support the medicare for all floor vote that tainrunner keeps melting down about, yet end up a lib wrecker who needs to go to D&D. what a joke. much like witch craft, imo, but to each their own

If you're curious what got Finicums Wake a 100,000 probation:

usually when someone's called a pedophile, the implication is that they want have sex with human children. i don't think that someone who posted about a drawing of cartoon porn absolutely wants to fuck children, and that throwing that accusation around is bad.

if you just meant to say that the poster is a creep, or cringe, or whatever, then fine: i agree with you. but if you're not trying to imply you're certain they want to fuck kids, then you made a really bad post

Can we invoke death curses and hexes in this thread, or is that verboten as well that's pretty heavy, and not usually worth the time and energy invested imo, talk like that tends to get the pyres burning. I recommend inconvenience hexes and annoyance poxes, light easy curses that you can safely blame on coincidence - but deep down you'll know. Forgetting your bus pass, forgetting the words to your speech, misplacing your keys muhuhahaha

I got a witch for a mom, and thanks to DNA being a dick I got it passed down to me from birth. I gotta admit, one of my first real post-9/11 crack-pings was being in the last stages of my "Magic's not real, fuck you mom" rebel phase while watching meme-magic literally send TUETNRO into the white house.

Message received and lesson fucking learned 🤪 witchcraft and the like is predominantly born of peasantry and commoners but go off i guess

It seems dubious to try and draw a connection from "the one woman in the village who knew about herbs, and midwifing, and germs" to "well off white girls messing about with cards and pretending star signs mean things" and act like that's a meaningful historic throughline, honestly

Some plague rats' permaban was legit a really depressing moment for the forums:

Type	Date	Horrible Jerk	Punishment Reason
PERMABAN	03/24/23 07:00pm	some plague rats	Buying yourself a transphobic avatar and then accusing another poster of buying it. This is extremely manipulative and has no place on the forums.

You might be noticing a pattern here. This is a good illustration of why I don't read C-SPAM.

Kit walker:

Most of the people I know into that sort of thing tend to be queer and working class. The rationale ranges from "I view mysticism as a sort of self-reflection and system by which I can reorient my mind and will into the direction I desire" to "by lighting these six black candles and burning this poem I wrote, Mitch McConnell will literally fall down and break his balls." It really depends on the person. Honestly a big factor for its popularity in the US almost certainly has to do with the lack of healthcare access. I can't count the number of times I've known people get sick or deal with mental health issues and turn to other friends who will point out some herbal medicine they can try to use until they can actually afford to see a doctor

People just want power and a sense of control over their own lives. Whether it's real or just something that eases that drive, people will turn to whatever they can get their hands on to do it

Staticman continues:

Raise your hand if you've killed the cop in your head. Good.

S A M E

Now, raise your hand if you've killed or are killing the colonizer in your head. Many of you are asking "w-what...?", "lol are you serious?", etc. We all know about the entity called "the cop in your head", and it's death is a necessary part of unchaining oneself and others from the prison of Capitalism. There's just one problem, especially if you're pale, there's another entity implanted in you called the Colonizer. This entity's actively driving you to not just hate non-Christian faith, but to destroy it in whatever ways you can. As above, so below, just like fascists use liberal free-speech as a Trojan horse to deliver white supremacist An Orwellmaidenheirazilneworltheylivatrix's Tale, the Colonizer's favorite horse for ecocidal Christendom these days is ~skeptical atheism and fucking loving science~. I don't know if you've been paying attention, but scientists are as listened to by the government as Indigenous elders.

There's a reason natives are screaming from the rooftops for y'all to listen to them, cause if you keep ignoring them, you're literally going to continue the colonial cycle, but this time forcing the "superstitious savages" to surrender their ways and adopt the immortal science. That's exactly what the colonizer in your head wants, and why you must kill him.

Not sure what else to say on this, again, sorry if this came out a dumb goon rant, just my observation 🗨️

Twoday:

And then there are critiques of the critiques. From an essay on the economics of fortune telling certification programs:

▼ quote:

Hardly fraudulent, the contemporary psychic practitioner performs an increasingly pervasive form of labor in American society. Part life-coach, part spiritual mentor, their work capitalizes on the conditions of everyday life, particularly as the quest for personal well-being comes to stand in for more structural promises of long-term security. They may, perhaps, be the quintessential affective laborers: those who sell their very capacity to produce in you the feeling that you exist — that you can be recognized, read, interpreted, and advised.

From here the thread gets closed because people keep showing up to troll it. But you can also see a fun sampling of magickal thinking in the thread's regulars posting elsewhere in C-SPAM:

Call me crazy but I got from trusted sources some good news and bad news:

Good news: You puny humans didn't kill Gaia, she's currently in hospice in a planet impossibly out of reach to the demon cracker christcult, no matter their material tech.

Bad news: In a taste of your own hairless monkey medicine, y'all got an Interim Spirit ruling the planet! Aaand she's beyond pissed at Christendom and it's savages! She's gonna force y'all to take up mutual aid and community defense against literal creatures of the night you thought "supernatural". Oh and along with the usual climate disasters. 🗡️👹

I highly recommend not attempt even ironic hexes on Gaia, it'll go far worse than the babby witch hexes of on the moon, this is no longer a game. 🤪

Staticman again, in the alt right mock thread:

So I don't feel bad at all about being mean this episode because if they're right and we're all one bad day away from being up against the wall with a wand at our backs then they get to have the last laugh.

Bonus ep: BLOW UP THE MOON!!!!

Alexander Abian

Alexander Abian

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Alexander (Smbat) Abian (January 1, 1923 – July 24, 1999)^[1] was an Iranian-born Armenian-American mathematician who taught for over 25 years at Iowa State University and became notable for his frequent posts to various Usenet newsgroups, and his advocacy for the destruction of the Moon.

ISU professor asks, 'Why not blow up the moon?'

By VERONICA FOWLER

Of The Register's Ames Bureau

AMES, IA. — While others might ask, "Why blow up the moon?" Alexander Abian asks, "Why not?"

Abian, an Iowa State University mathematics professor, advocates blowing up the moon and changing the tilt of Earth to get rid of such pesky problems as tides, deserts and chilly winters. Abian even said he would be relieved to not have to look at the moon — he finds it rather ugly.

"If I were the creator of the whole universe, I would have probably built the universe in a much more pleasant way," Abian said.

In fact, he said, perhaps changing the entire solar system would be an even better way to improve the environment. Changing the orbits of Mercury, Venus and Mars or combining some of these planets into one "could be even safer and easier."

Granted, Abian said, destroying the moon could wreak incredible havoc on Earth, like starting tidal waves, earthquakes, eternal winters and changing forever the way the universe functions. "It could destroy everything, yes, but it could also be a great improvement."

While Bob Leacock, an ISU physics professor, thinks Abian is serious about his theory, he prefers "to treat this symbolically" as an intellectual exercise. "I think Abian likes to start people thinking about things," Leacock said.

But Abian points out that he's not proposing that human beings rush into all this. "I'm not saying that we should go out and immediately blow up the moon without preliminary study."

People could blow up the moon, take some of the soil and put a big pie of it on part of the southern hemisphere to even out the tilt of Earth, Abian said. Not only would the tilt be solved, but also mankind would have the extra land to live on.

While the transplanted moon soil would mean a mammoth bump in the sphere of Earth, Abian doesn't think it would cause any detrimental side effects. "The earth would have a bulge there, but who cares about a bulge?"

Abian says his plan has the beauty of flexibility as well. People could totally destroy the moon, or create two moons — or three, or four.

"Why should we take it for granted that the existing setup is the best possible scenario for our lives?" he asks.

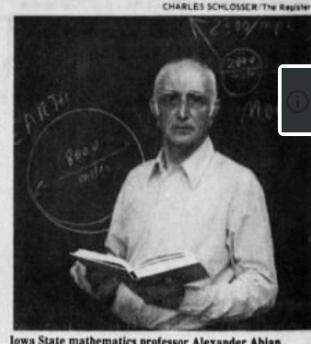

"Why should we take for granted that the orbit of our Earth around the sun could not and should not be changed?"

We've been stuck with this celestial setup for about 5 billion years, Abian said. It's time for a change.

Abian admits that there are those who laugh at his theory. "Some, of course, grind to powder my debates."

Leacock doesn't exactly do any grinding, but does say it's pretty certain the human race isn't going to blow up the moon anytime soon.

Even if we had the technology to do so, "it's not clear that we'd want to," said Leacock.

Iowa State mathematics professor Alexander Abian.

Yes, yes, yes, we must get rid of that moronish idiotic and imbecile chunk of perverse piece of refuse THE MOON - once and for all!

THE MOON must go, must be eliminated!! Enough of billions of years of the evil presence of that piece of refuse with its morbid presence hanging above our heads - enough of that terrorizing spy in the ski! that Evil watchful eye that disgusting boring depressing piece of abomination.

We must radically change the cosmic surrounding scenario of our planet Earth, Enough of the same billion and billion of years of continuous misery of rotten decadent pestiferous and idiotical celestial setup surrounding our planet Earth.

RADICAL CHANGE IS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY. THE MOST PRACTICAL THE MOST EFFECTIVE THE MOST URGENT RADICAL CHANGE IS

TO BLOW UP THE MOON TO SMITHEREENS AND GET RID OF ITS EVIL PRESENCE ONCE AND FOR ALL!

Equivalent of mass and time

At the primeval stage, the Cosmic mass was violently sucked out from its primeval state (perhaps as a primeval fireball) and with a furious and tempestuous force was fulminated into the Space giving rise to the existing Cosmos. I call that stage "The Big Suck Stage" and the corresponding theory "The Big Suck Theory" (contrary to the currently held "The Big Bang Theory" which is nonconvincing to many).

The sucking out process mentioned above, had caused and continues to cause the ejection, emission and spreading out of the masses and particles as continuously moving mass waves (or matter waves).

Wikipedia says it best:

The proposed nuclear destruction of the Moon has been rejected by astronomers on several grounds: the nuclear arsenal of mankind would fail to do more than crack the Moon's crust; if successful, the heating of Earth's atmosphere by a hail of falling lunar debris would be destructive to all life; and an increase, not decrease, in the Earth's wobble without a stabilizing Moon, leading to an Earth axial tilt of 45 degrees and more drastic seasons would occur.^{[7][8]}
