What is a Named Jaeger Account?

A named Jaeger Account is an account that's characters are named using a naming scheme that includes your outfit and in-game name on live, making you an identifiable presence on Jaeger.

It would look something like B4NDxSGTMile or ECLxReltor. (TAGxIGN)

Why Should I Care about having a Named Account?

1. You are identifiable as yourself, rather than a nameless Jaeger Account. People know who killed them. (And who to TK in-game for getting stomped)
2. You don't need to request the account for each scrim, simply post a notification that you will be using Jaeger to notify if you plan to play on a specific base and you're all set.
3. You don't need to use the PSB Teamspeak. We know who you are, no need for us to see you in TS.*
 - a. Provided you are willing and able to join the TS if a PSB Admin requests a conversation*

Restrictions

- No outfit will receive more than 12 named accounts.
- Named accounts will be player specific, and must be used by that player only.
- Named accounts are named after the outfit and player specifically.
- When a player who has a named account leaves the outfit it is associated with, they lose the account.
- The account is still owned by PSB.
- Violations of DBG rules such as their naming policy for outfits will see your account recycled.
- Long Term inactivity will see your account recycled
- Restrictions on usage will be outlined in more detail later in these rules, for now these are the basics.
- ASP is not allowed on any PSB Account

Qualification

Named accounts on Jaeger are not in infinite supply, they are drawn from our existing pool of limited accounts. PSB decides on a per case basis which outfit receives which amount of accounts, with a limit to 12. Outfits must have a track record for using PSB accounts (OvO namely) in order to request named accounts.

Registration

As stated before your outfit will receive not more than 12 accounts. Apply with a reasonable and legitimate number, if you only play actively with 6 players on Jaeger then apply for 6.

Login information will be given player by player and may not be shared, even with other members of your outfit. Any person found to have violated this policy will be permanently banned from using PSB Accounts. The linked outfit might face further consequences.

These rules serve to make each individual person accountable for their given account, as well as make outfit reps responsible for the conduct of their players.

Behavioral Rules

Going around boasting about your named account, posting about it on reddit, telling other players they are worse because they don't have them, etc will get your account removed. In addition they are still PSB accounts, and you should play fair and in a civil manner when using them.

PSB may remove your account access on behavioral grounds, subject to our interpretation.

Scrim Teams

Outfits may choose to apply for named accounts as part of a multi-outfit scrim team. Outfits that apply as part of a team must agree to forfeit their ability to apply as an outfit. The scrim team rep will be the rep for all purposes related to named accounts. If the outfits involved in the team wish to apply for named accounts on their own they forfeit all named accounts gained as a member of that team, and must reapply.

Alts and AltFits

Outfits requesting a named account for an alt will not be approved. For the purpose of named accounts, someone who is an "alt" plays with multiple outfits and In the case of requesting an account for any player that may be an alt, outfit reps should contact the Named Account Admins if they are unsure about a member. If an Alt is put into the list of users to get an account, then the outfit will lose that slotted account. Altfits (Outfits made of Alts) are not approved to request accounts. In case of an outfit using an altfit to get more accounts may result in the outfit losing access to named accounts.

Rule Clarification (“Risk to the Named Account” has been removed from the previous paragraph, and expanded on below)

Users with Bad Track Records

Users with previous blemishes on their records such as Warnings issued to them in OvO for improper use of accounts, histories of disrupting other Jaeger play or trolling on live servers or other similar bad/troll-like behavior may not be approved. Users with this kind of history should be discussed with the Named Account Admin before submitting them for approval.

Usage

Using your named Jaeger Accounts falls outside the normal restrictions of OvO, however some reasonable notification is still required to keep Jaeger reasonably organized.

In order to keep everyone playing without conflicts you are to claim bases if you intend to use them instead of anyone else. A posted claim on /r/PSBOvO is valid up to 1.5 hour from the linked time per day with exceptions for events or specific allowances by PSB. If you do not claim a base you are at risk having to leave said base if another group did claim it appropriately.

This system places responsibility on you to be checking the [OvO Calendar] and not letting your account use conflict with any event already listed. Events that have previously requested specific bases will have priority. We will, if timely posted, mark it on the OvO calendar for other players.

Take note that PSB is not in control of every account on Jaeger. The basics of any Jaeger user even outside of PSB is not to interfere with each others events. PSB can act as mediator and take appropriate measures to any users due to our contact options with Daybreak. If a non-PSB associated account interferes with your claim, contact PSB directly.

As a Player what responsibilities do I have?

You must:

1. Ensure you alone know the login to your account.
2. Follow all rules in this book to the letter.
3. Post a notification, should your outfit rep be unable to do so, whenever you want to use a specific base to play.
4. If you did not request a base, any other group that did has the right to play at the base before you do and you have to leave the base.

Using Named Accounts for other events.

Ask the event organizer for permission first. If the organizer is ok with named accounts, we are ok with it, provided you otherwise follow the rules laid out in this document.

Recycling

PSB will recycle accounts to keep enough accounts ready to distribute. You are not to recycle and rename the accounts yourself, contact PSB instead.

A reason why a recycle might happen is when a certain account has not been used regularly enough or the linked user left the outfit. Grants are currently linked to outfits, so a person leaving an outfit loses the account. Aid PSB in keeping a high availability by notifying us that person specifically left. In the case of a member leaving an outfit, said outfit has the initial chance to get it recycled within their own outfit before it is returned to larger pool.

PSB is not obligated to recycle on an outfit's request, but will look at a case by case basis if an account is eligible for recycling.

Any abuse of trying to get accounts recycled in a manner we do not appreciate might face consequences for the entire group. We will always inform both the outfit rep and the specific user when an account is going to be recycled and for what reason. Rest assured we will do recycling appropriately and diligently.

Account Grant Flow

The named account grant flow follows 5 steps:

1. Application
2. Negotiation
3. Allocation
4. Creation
5. Receiving
6. Certification

Account Application

- An outfit representative is to fill in the public form for applying for named accounts.
- The outfit rep is to prepare a player proposal list that has to include
 - The outfit name/tag
 - Each player's in-game name
 - Each player's proposed in-game jaeger name (Case sensitive!)
 - Names should directly derive from in-game or other appropriately linked names. Avoid losing time by not proposing badly/meme typed names.
 - Each player's own Gmail address.
- The application (both name submission and form submission) must be completed within one month.

Account Negotiation

- When the outfit rep is notified that their outfit is eligible for accounts, you are to supply the aforementioned proposal list.
- A background check will be done per player and PSB will tell you which ones will be allowed to access accounts. An outfit might receive up to 12 accounts, but the specific amount will be revealed after the request has been studied upon.

Account Allocation

- Once the study has been completed, a form will be shared to fill in per player on the provided email addresses. (BE SURE THAT THEY READ THIS DOCUMENT)
- We will require information from each player, including GMail, Reddit and Discord. In addition OvO Staff must have access to your outfit's VOIP server, be that Mumble, Teamspeak 3, Discord, ETC.
- If a player takes longer than a month from initial filing to fill out the form, the account they were going to receive is revoked.

Account Creation

- After the outfit study has been successfully completed the characters will be created by PSB after the name convention has been agreed upon.

- All players must complete the form before a date can be determined for users to pick up accounts.

Receiving Accounts

- PSB will then set a reasonable date and time for all players who account to show up and get validated. We will notify all players with named accounts of these times, allowing for them to show up and up the certs on their characters (see Account Certification).
- Existing named accounts can be renamed to a different one during this time with the endorsement of an Named Account Admin. Keep in mind that only PSB is to rename the characters.

Account Certification

- To get the account completely setup you will need to run each character through the tutorial, as well as collect certs from a cert tower set up by a PSB admin or affiliate. Pay attention when receiving accounts to know where cert towers will be.
- The recommended amount is 4 million certs. The Cert Tower will give 5k certs and 5k ISO about every 3 to 4 four seconds so you will need to sit by a Tower for a short time to get certs and ISO.
- Don't get too many certs per character. Getting too many certs will break account, upon which PSB will revoke access to named accounts for that person.
- Do not waste time certing out things on your character, get all three factions up to 2 million and after that you can start certing it all out.

Final Words

Rule Violations and Punishments

Generally first violations of the rules laid out above will result in a warning, the second will result in a warning or ban.

Sharing the account with ANYONE will be a no warning ban.

PSB reserves the right to enforce these rules in any way we deem appropriate, and to remove or restrict account access for rule violations not explicitly outlined in this document.

Regarding Outfits Applying for Additional Accounts a.k.a. “Round 2”

For outfits that have not hit the 12 account limit, there are currently no plans on allowing outfits to apply for more accounts. Once we are confident that most outfits who are active have had a chance to apply we may open a “Round 2”.

If however there are no accounts left for Named Accounts, and more are not sanctioned, there will be no Round 2. If the Named Account service is maxed out and accounts clear up, current outfits will be prioritized.

If you are interested in Round 2, please message us.
