ARTIST BIO

Yi-Han (Audrey) Chou is a Choreographer, New Media Artist, and Researcher working across time-based and embodied mediums. She holds a BFA in Fashion Design from Parsons School of Design with a minor in Contemporary Dance from Eugene Lang College at The New School, and an MPS from New York University's Tisch School of the Arts, Interactive Telecommunications Program (ITP).

Her multidisciplinary research spans interactive design, experimental filmmaking, site-specific performance, sound design, real-time systems, and immersive production. Through cross-disciplinary frameworks, She explores themes of dysphoria, displacement, and sonic landscapes—centering embodied storytelling as a method of artistic inquiry.

Her practice investigates the intersections of movement, identity, and sensory perception, drawing on cultural memory, ecological awareness, and temporal healing as conceptual anchors.

Audrey's work has been presented at venues and platforms including Taiwan Contemporary Culture Lab, Submarine Gallery, Taipei American School, BRIC.TV, UAAD, Anthology Film Archives, Dance Film Lab at Gibney, ARTECHOUSE, La MaMa Culture Hub (Artiface), and Abrons Art Center. Her films have also been selected by Canadian Screen Award—qualifying festivals.

As a performer and dance artist, Audrey has worked with Vicky Shick and Mariana Valencia, as well as expanding her training at universities such as The Place London, Northern School of Contemporary Dance, UDK Berlin, and TNUA.
