

I Am Competitive

It was late afternoon in July when my brother and sister wanted to go to the park. At the time I didn't really want to go but my brother said I will play you in football. We decided to walk together and play some football on the grass.

So when we got to the park me and my brother started playing football and then my sister wanted to play and

Who: My brother and my sister

When: Two months ago

Where: A park by my house

What: Me being competitive

Why: They will learn that I am competitive