

Morongo Casino Resort & Spa Opens

The official groundbreaking ceremony for Morongo Casino Resort & Spa was held on May 28, which is a new resort designed by The Jerde Partnership for the Morongo Band of Mission Indians. Judd's design for the luxury resort was inspired by a project located at the heart of California's Morongo Reservation, among its jagged mountains, canyons carved from wind and water, and intense sunlight.

The new Morongo Casino Resort & Spa, which is almost four times bigger than the original Casino Morongo, will brand the destination as a high-quality, experience-based place and serve as a benchmark for design and development for the continuous diversification of the Morongo tribe. The place is nestled in one of the most awe-inspiring natural wonders of the world. The design vision is integrated with the spectacular experiences that nature already offers. This truly is a turning point for the hospitality experience," said Jon Jerde, founder and president of the Judd Partnership. Tim Magill, Judd's senior vice president and head of design, added, "By focusing on the dramatic scenery of the Morongo Reserve, we are working to create a unique place that celebrates the changing power of nature - a force that shapes the striking physical features of this place and energizes those who visit it."

Located 90 minutes east of Los Angeles, California, between the picturesque San Bernardino and San Jacinto mountain ranges, Judd's design concept for the 660,000-square-foot project is celebrated with the power to transform and shape nature. "The tribe's goal is to create a global resort that provides visitors a high-quality experience with a full range of entertainment and recreation for the whole family to enjoy," said Morongo Tribal Chief Maurice Lyons. "Judd's design concept is beautiful, unique, and will enhance desert paradise."

Morongo Casino Resort & Spa consists of a transition, transition, and oasis zone that features organic shapes, earth colors, landscaping, and natural materials. The transition zone extends across the site from the nearby highway 10 to the iconic Forte Cohair. Once inside, the transition zone begins, stretching across the casino to the Oasis zone, an outdoor swimming pool zone. Surrounded by nearby mountains, the oasis is full of sandy beaches, cabanas, spas, and water slides. Likewise, the largely drought-resistant landscape becomes more lush and rich every time guests pass by each district.

The resort's focus is on the grand casino, with a perfect selection of the latest slots and table games. Theme restaurants, nightclubs, family attractions, and spa facilities will surround the casino. Located right next to the casino floor, the hotel tower will feature 272 standard rooms and 32 double bay suites, offering stunning views of the mountains and desert valleys. Additional luxury accommodations are provided in six casias, each with its own private water facilities overlooking the full oasis. 실시간 바카라사이트

Scheduled to open in 2004, the new Morongo Casino Resort & Spa is adjacent to the hugely popular Desert Hills Outlet Center and landmark Hadley Fruit Orchards, which will provide year-round travel destinations for more than 10 million visitors already traveling to the area. Morongo Casino Resort & Spa's groundbreaking work comes amid a trend by tribal governments in India to offer world-class resorts that appeal to a wider range of travelers in the highly competitive hospitality industry. Hard Rock Cafe, a music and entertainment brand, has entered into agreements with tribes in Connecticut, Florida, and Mississippi to target its targets young customers.
