

AUCTI'ANO

Aucti'ano-Chan grew up as a healthy individual and was considered as an energetic and cheerful person. As a teenager, Aucti'ano-Chan enjoyed playing online games, music such as playing guitar, painting, and hiking. Aucti'ano-Chan's teenage days was considered special due to the fact having many friends and positive vibes around. Auctiano was his name due to the fact that his parents are fond of participating in auctions in collecting vintage and antique items. He was the only child in the family in which all support was received making Aucti'ano-Chan's life abundant and satisfied. Because of many hobbies Aucti'ano-Chan had, Aucti'ano-Chan was considered as a talented person born with gifted talent to adapt and learn new things faster and accurately. In school, Aucti'ano-Chan also had high remarks and was adored by many. Aucti'ano-Chan's life was almost close to perfection having to live a positive and happy life.

However, life does not always give the person the way they wanted. Aucti'ano-Chan's life changed in a blink. Aucti'ano's mother and father got into a car accident and was brought to the hospital but later on declared dead on arrival. Auctiano was left devastated and couldn't believe what had happened. Days have passed and the one who took over the wealth of Aucti'ano's family was the brother of his father, a selfish, greedy, and an evil man. He kicked Aucti'ano and claimed the wealth of the family. Aucti'ano was forced to do many works in order to survive and earn money. Aucti'ano was able to earn money and survive on his own and continued to live and do things he once loved.