

Do You Think You're Practicing Good Self-Care?

OCCASIONALLY RARELY NEVER I DO THIS... DNA

FREQUENTLY

1. I eat regularly (Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner or after fasting).
2. I exercise or do a fun physical activity if I'm feeling stressed.
3. I take time to slow down and take care of myself when I'm sick (i.e. Get medical care or take some time off work or other engagements to rest).
4. I get enough sleep.
5. I make time to be with my thoughts and self-reflect.
6. I take time to express my thoughts or feelings, or have a creative outlet (i.e. writing your thoughts in a journal or expressive art).
7. I say no to extra responsibilities when my plate is already full.
8. I spend time with people who make me happy.
9. I love myself and give myself positive affirmations.
10. I allow myself to show emotions.
11. I spend time with my pets or in spaces in which I feel comfortable.
12. I make time to do important things like creating a budget or studying.
13. I ask for help if I need it.
14. I spend time with people I care about who care about me too (friends or family).
15. I unplug from harmful social media.
16. I make quiet time for myself to complete necessary tasks.
17. I take time to chat and get to know others (co-workers, students, neighbors, etc.).
18. I set boundaries in my relationships with my partner, family, and friends.
19. I take deep breaths if I find myself getting overwhelmed, and take time to tend to those emotions.
20. I strive for balance among work, family, relationships, play and rest.

the time to care for myself in whichever ways work best for you. We know that to be in a healthy relationship we each need time for ourselves and our own interests, and sometimes even when we're single our work and school schedules can get in the way of us truly taking the best care of ourselves. It's important to remember that self-care is not selfish, it's self-LOVE. Chat with an advocate on www.loveisrespect.org

It sounds like you are doing a good job taking care of myself! Self-care is important for your emotional, mental, and physical well-being, so keep it up! If you're used to doing the same techniques or methods, maybe try something totally new. If you usually journal your feelings, try your hand at art. If you always go for a run or do a physical activity, try some meditation and deep breathing exercises too. New experiences can be fun!

at taking those few moments to focus on you! Keep it up!
Self-care can be a really positive thing for anyone, especially for people who have experienced some form of trauma.

It sounds like you know all about self-care, and are excellent
