Nothing else was changed despite my explanation of what went wrong and the screenshot of the plagiarism checker. When I complained again, they simply decided that the time for revisions has passed.

From my previous experience, I was prepared to do some proofreading and editing of the completed work as I know that these services tend to fight for not doing any revisions for free. Surprisingly, everything was alright. I can't say the paper was something brilliant but on the other hand that would be suspicious for my instructor, hehe

I think I will order again!

Trustmypaper is my first encounter with the world of writing services and I must say it is one of the greatest. They offer all kinds of paperwork and I never heard any creepy story of plagiarized paper or something like that about this company. Personally, I'm not an avid user of writing help services but I ordered here a couple of times and was always satisfied.

Recommendations

We are pretty "high" on Trust My Paper. Its business model is solid; it provides comprehensive services; quality products and customer service are exemplary; pricing is well within the average range for the industry; customers are pleased with what they receive. Overall, we are comfortable recommending this writing service to students at all academic levels. I'm an ex- employee of several essay writing services. Of course, I cannot name them due to NDA obligations and for a number of other obvious reasons. I won't share my name for the same privacy reason. But, be sure, I'm the one who knows all the dirty secrets of essay writing companies. I definitely know how to reap some benefits from my experience and share them with you in my blog.
