For this tournament, players must form teams of 4 and have a name for their team. For scoring and actually deciding who wins a match, Team 1's survivors play against Team 2's decided Krasue and vice versa. So yes one player will play krasue and survivor. The team that gets the highest score after both matches are completed will advance through the bracket. (So yes, this is a single-elimination tournament👁👁). The final team standing gets $20 worth of auric cells for each teammate.

Scoring:

The Krasue Player:

- +2 Point for each hook stage
- +3 Points for fresh hooks

The Survivors:

- +2 Points for each generator completed
- +2 Points for hatch escape
- +5 Points for each gate escape

The Gameplay:

After both teams decide on a date and time to play their match, this is how it's going to go. Teams must mutually decide what map they will play on and when they are going to play their match. It must align with a time when two casters are available. So I recommend asking and pinging the casters in your team forum for when they are available.

Standoff (2 Survivors Remaining) Rule:

If there are 2 survivors remaining and you have downed one, you must hook them and not slug to find the other unless u have exact and precise knowledge of the last survivor's whereabouts or are either actively chasing them as well. (You have 30 seconds to find the survivor, if you don't find them, you must return to hook the other downed survivor). Failure to follow this rule will lead to a deduction of points (-2 points) for every 30 seconds it is true that you are doing this.

Maps Availiabile:

- Coal Tower I
- Suffocation Pit I
- Wretched Shop
- Blood Lodge
- Freddy Fazbear's Pizza

Loadouts (Perks, Items, Addons)

For the Krasue Player:

No Anti-Camp System

Offering: No Offerings

Addons: All addons allowed except for Chicken Head, Shredded Gown, Theater

Binoculars, Pig's Eye, and Spattered Handkerchief (Chunk of Malai & Parasite will be banned during semi-finals and beyond.)

Perks to choose from: Corrupt Intervention, Pain Resonance, Pop Goes The Weasel, Eruption, Turn Back The Clock, Tinkerer, Haywire, Machine Learning, No Way Out, Infectious Fright, Grim Embrace, Call of Brine, Coulraphobia, Jagged Compass, Gift of Pain, Oppression, Ultimate Weapon, Trail of Torment, Agitation, Forced Penance

For the Survivor: Each survivor in a team must pick a loadout to run

Casters:

Casters must be members who can stream the match to everyone on the stage on the server. At every match, there must be two casters present. One caster will be focused on streaming the game and commentating while the other has to focus on keeping score (they can also commentate if they would like). Also, be mindful that you will be pinged quite often when teams are wondering when you are available to be present during their matches. Casters must also double-check that all the proper settings have been set before starting the match.

RULES:

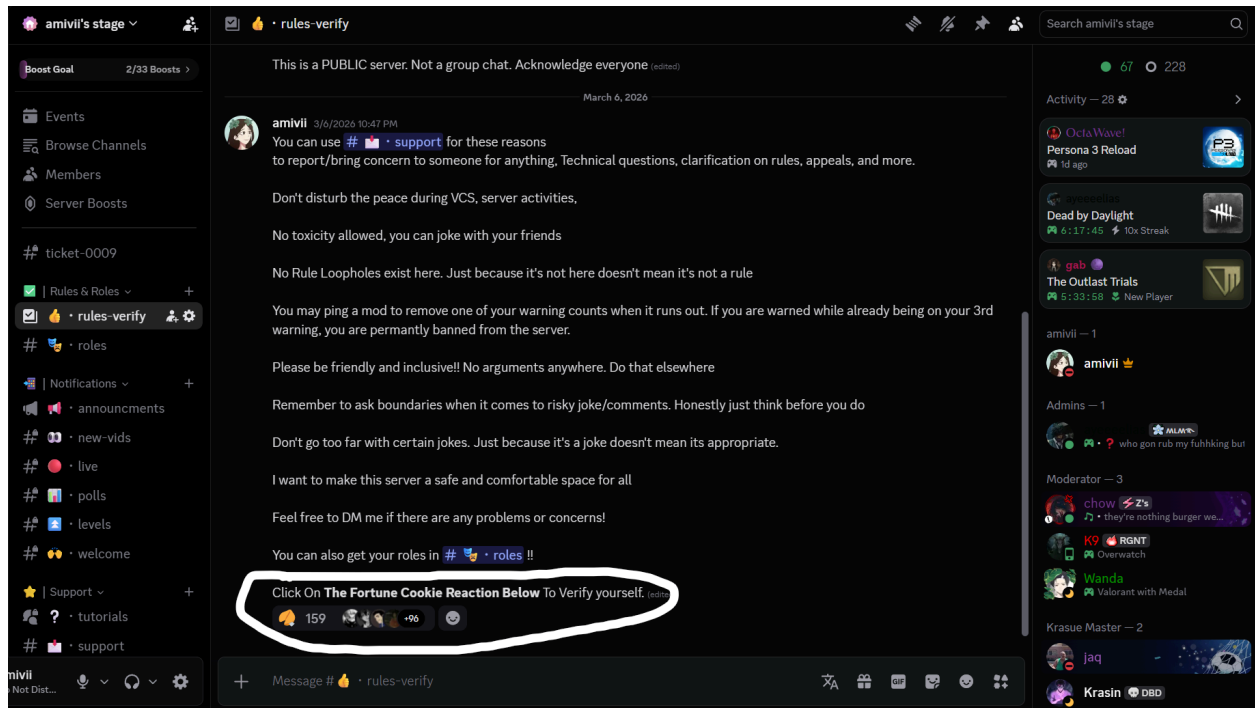

1. (Casters) No cussing/using profane words/slurs outside of damn, hell, and other tame ones mid-match (streaming). Just be careful. Players, of course, can have more liberty and freedom in their own voice channel. But 100% still follow the server rules
2. No Exploting/Hacking/Abusing Bugs. This will result in an immediate disqualification of your WHOLE team.

3. The appointed Krasue player doesn't have to be the same person every time you have a match.
4. No toxicity. (No bagging, W+S, Taunting, Emoting.) This will result in a loss of points. (-2)
5. Rematches can only happen if an emergency happens mid-match. Like a server bug, someone's power going out, etc. Some of these cases are sensitive and can only be applicable and excused if it occurs early game.
6. You can change your team members/leave a team/change the team name, etc whenever as long as the team you are in hasn't played their first game yet.
7. No having casters cheat and give comms to players mid-game.
8. You can record all you want. Recording matches is not prohibited. But definitely streaming it to others for advantages and cheating is not allowed and will result in a disqualification.
9. Just have good sportsmanship.
10. The krasue(killer) must host the lobby for ping reasons.
11. Subs can be apart of your team but won't receive the prize if they are apart of the winning team. This is because they are only there for emergency if an actual main teammate isn't available to play. This is to allow more wiggle room when it's time to start scheduling matches. The actual main tm8s of course are prioritized before subs. (Subs can play both roles. Obviously its up to the team to discuss). You can be a sub if you are already apart of another team. It's a more voluntary role. If you are looking for a sub u can declare that in your team forum or either ping the "Looking For Team Members" ping.

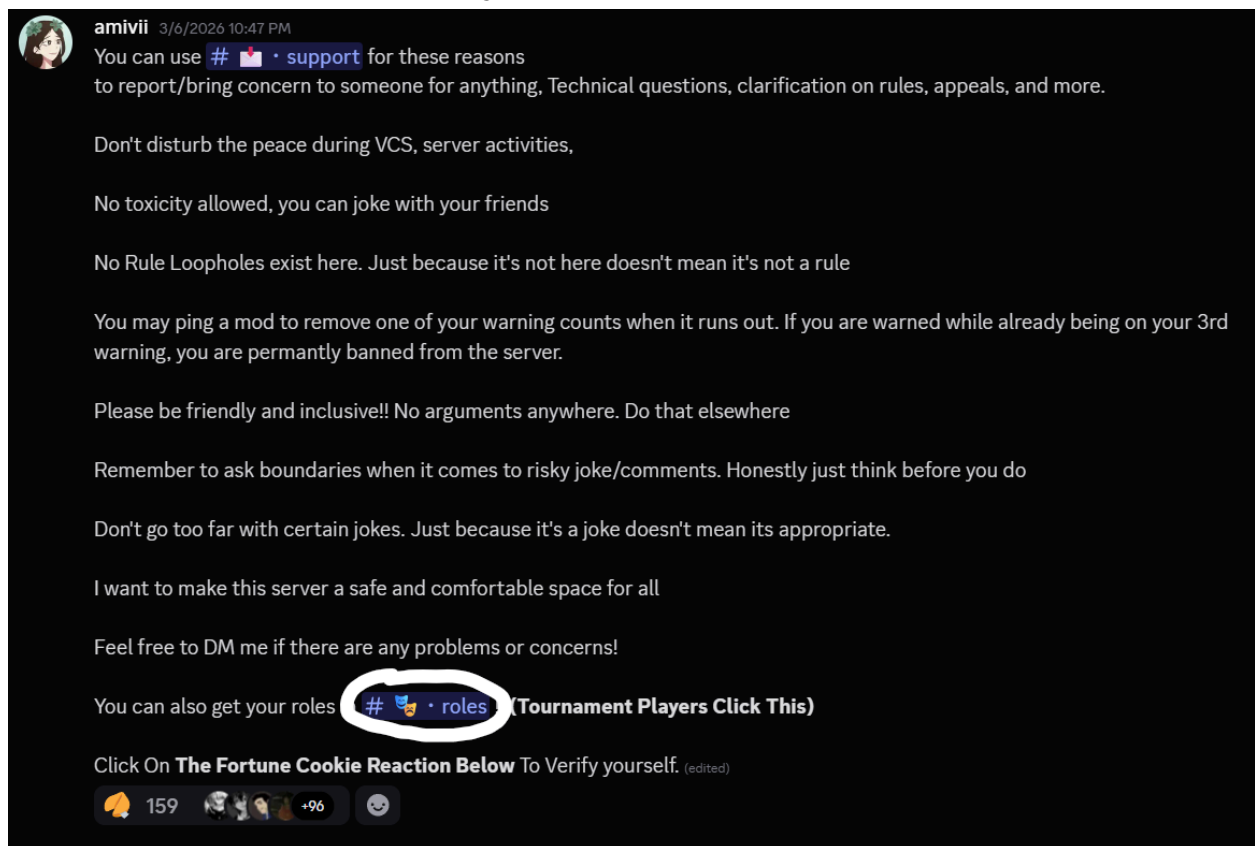

How to join and participate:

Almost everything will take place in my community server, so yes, you must have Discord to participate.

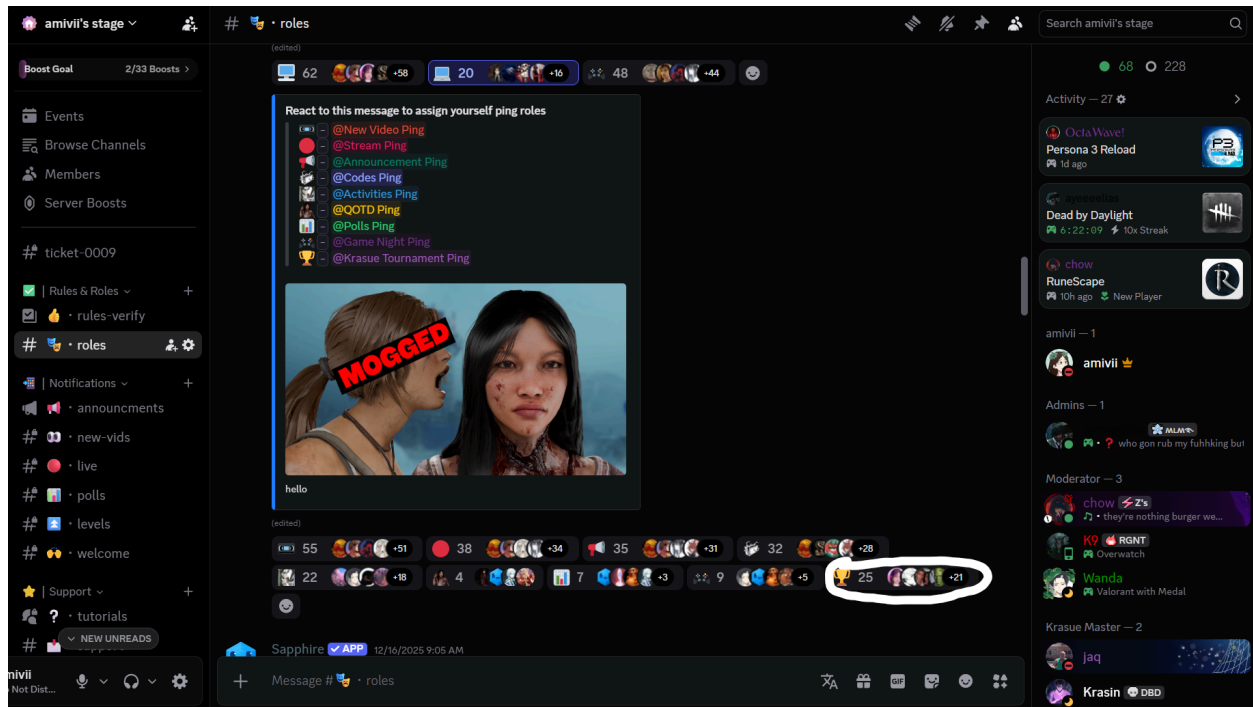

1. Join my community server: <https://discord.gg/W9UdP6qM2P>
2. Make sure you verify here

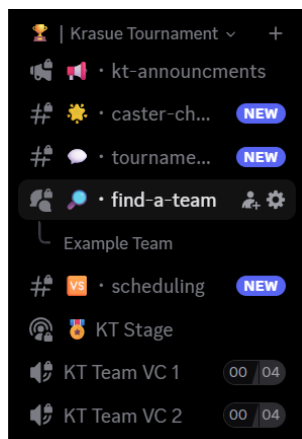

3. Click this button that leads you to the roles channel

- Find this message in the roles channel and react to the trophy to claim the tournament role. (without this role you can't access everything for the tournament.)

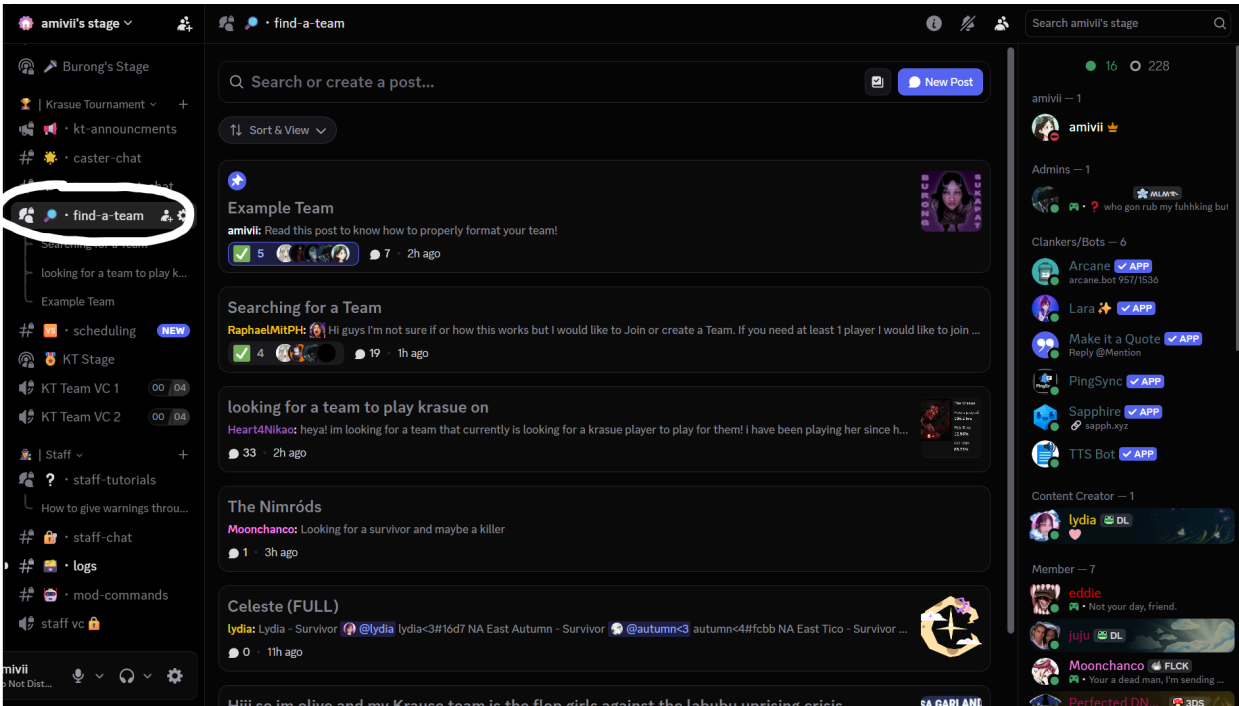

- Scroll all the way down in the channels list and find the “Krasue Tournament” category and check out everything there.

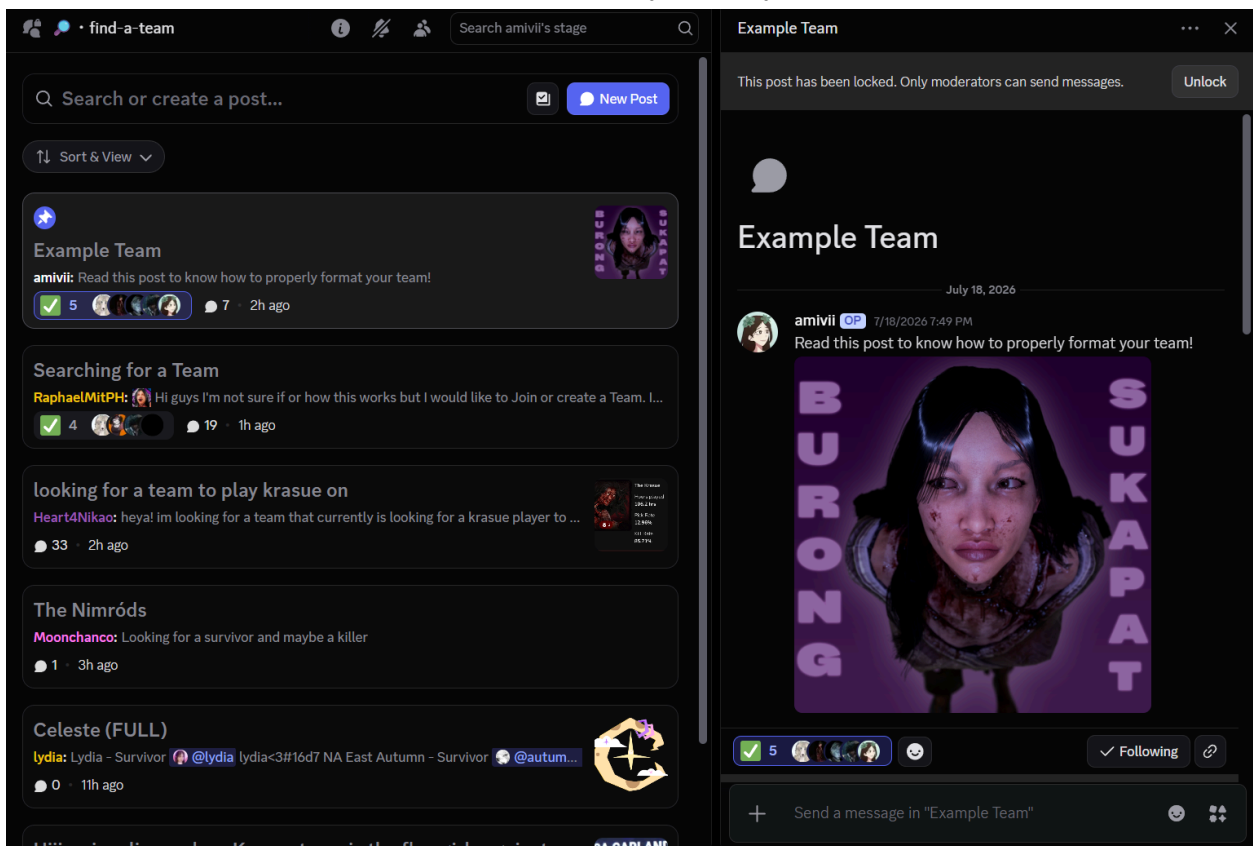

- On 7/30/2026, I will start scheduling teams for the opening rounds. Or earlier if there are A LOT of teams.

How to create a team

- Go to the “find a team” forum and create a post.

2. Follow the “Example Team” post to properly format your team’s forum.

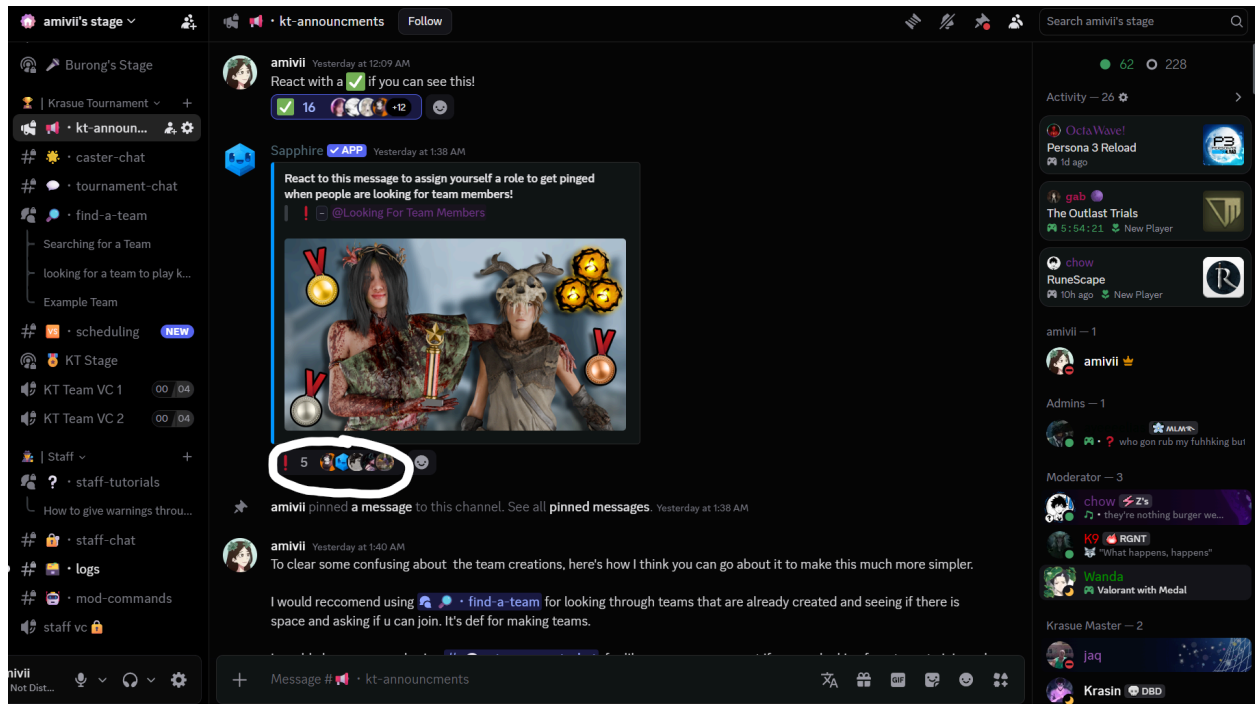

3. Make sure you make it obvious that your team has space or that you are looking for tm8s or when your team is full!

4. You can use the “Looking for Teamates” ping in the tournament chat to find some teammates as well.

How to find a team

There are several options when it comes to finding a team for this tournament.

- You can claim the “Looking for Teamates” ping for when someone is in need of some

- Or either look through the team forums and see what teams have open spots.

Good Luck!!
